Congo Police Quiz Blonde Girl, Servant

Lt. Col. Stogner
Shot And Killed
At Leopoldville

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Lt. Col. Hulen Stogner's Congolese houseboy, a 38-year-old cook and personal servant, was arrested Friday for questioning, in his slaying.

Police also interviewed the petite American blonde who was in a bedroom with Stogner when he was shot to death. Friends said Stogner had expressed hope of marrying the girl, Elizabeth Thring, 21, of Washington, D.C.

Stogner, 39, had a wife and six children in El Paso, Tex. He was an assistant military attache at the U.S. Embassy, where one close friend said Stogner had spoken of divorce plans and of the possibility of marrying Miss Thring at Easter.

Head bowed and tearful, Miss Thring was taken from the seclusion of a friend's house Friday morning to the office of the Congolese security branch chief, Victor Nendaka.

Under Congolese law, following the Belgian pattern, the investigation is being held in strictest secrecy.

The soft-spoken Texan was in bed in his suburban home Wednesday night when he was killed by a single shot from outside the window.

Miss Thring was first described by the official embassy spokesman as a secretary. He later said she was not working in Leopoldville and had come to the Congo to be with Stogner.

Miss Thring told investigators she grabbed Stogner's own gun as soon as she saw what had happened to him. Apparently, he kept it handy near his bed, against burglars.

She ran toward the telephone by the front door, and saw a Congolese man who turned and ran. Miss Thring did not fire. She said the man she saw was not carrying a gun.

The houseboy was not on duty at the time of the slaying.

Embassy officials said Stogner had had no troubles with his servants, nor with any of the embassy staff—Congolese or American.

The U.S. charge d'affaires, G. McMurtrie Godley said, "Nothing is clear-cut about the case."

Bob Kennedy Spends Night At Jakarta

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy returned to Jakarta Friday, a day ahead of schedule, because the unpresurized Soviet-built plane in which he and his wife were flying couldn't get over the clouds to land at Bandung.

Two pressurized American-built planes, carrying reporters and other members of the Kennedy party, put in on schedule at Bandung, but the Soviet-built Ilyushin the Indonesians reserve for distinguished visitors had to sit down at Semarang, 225 miles to the east, on a flight from Bali.

Kennedy had been scheduled to spend the night at Bandung and fly in here Saturday.

President Sukarno and Foreign Minister Subandrio conferred during the day on what appeared to be preparations for Sukarno's final discussions here with Kennedy Sunday on the Indonesian dispute with the Dutch over West New Guinea.

The Indonesians have not been happy about the U.S. attitude to their claim to the Dutch-held territory which Sukarno has vowed to wrest by force of arms if necessary.

Edgar Hoover Hits Self-Styled U.S. Experts On Communism

CHICAGO (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover criticized "self-styled experts on communism" Friday and decried "extravagant name-calling."

The director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation did not identify his targets by name but he stated: "Today far too many self-styled experts on communism are playing the highways of America giving erroneous and distorted information."

He also set forth in an article in the American Bar Association's Journal: "Our fight against communism must be a sane, rational understanding of the facts. Emotional outbursts, extravagant name-calling, gross exaggerations hinder our effort."

The FBI chief maintained that the nation needs enlightenment about the Communists. But, he suggested, it should be factual and accurate and presented with "more light and less heat."

Hoover said many non-Communists legitimately may take positions on issues which also are held by Communists.

"Their opinions, though temporarily coinciding with the party line, do not make them Communists," he added. "We must be careful with our facts and not brand as Communists any individual whose opinion may be different from our own."

Hoover lauded the American Bar Association's program to combat communism by education.

He counseled Americans against adopting the Communist attitude toward law and order.

"Cries for legal shortcuts, vigilante methods and less reliance on legal processes, though based on the most patriotic of motives, are most shortsighted. These would undermine our cause," he added.

Two youths stage bus holdup

WEST HAMLIN, W. Va. (AP)—The driver and three passengers of a Trailways bus were held up at a rest stop early Friday by two young handits who got away with about $105 and some jewelry.

The Roanoke, Va., to-Huntington, W. Va., bus had stopped at a restaurant a mile south of here on W. Va. 10.

Driver John Stevens of Princeton and two of his three passengers—Richard R. Rogers, a Logan County, W. Va., soldier stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., and A. W. Wójcowski of Painesville, Ohio—went into the restaurant.

Stevens related that when he returned to the bus with Rogers and Wójcowski, one of the gunmen said: "This is a robbery. If you move I'll blow your brains out."

Stevens said the men appeared to be in their 20s and both had pistols. They got $10 in fare money and a billfold containing $45 from Stevens and about $50 from the passengers. They also got three watches and a ring.

East Germany bans TV crews

BERLIN (AP)—Radio reporters and television crews from East Germany will be barred from West Germany, it was announced Friday. The decision was made at a conference of interior ministers of the states of the West German Republic. The interior ministers control local police forces.

A spokesman said the East Germans would be barred because their work is used for Communist propaganda.

Rebuff Of Castro By United Nations Is Clear-Cut U.S. Victory

By MAX HARRELSON
Chief Associated Press
United Nations Correspondent
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The latest rebuff of Prime Minister Fidel Castro by the United Nations demonstrates the sweeping change which has taken place in Cuba's position here since last spring.

The one-sided defeat in the Political Committee Thursday was much more than a rejection of Castro's charges that a U.S. invasion was imminent. It showed countries denounced the United States as an imperialist giant bent on exploiting all Latin America.

Cuba's Mario Garcia-Inchausti tried without success to get some of the neutralist Asian and African countries to sponsor a resolution calling for a peaceful solution of U.S.-Cuban differences.

The neutralists, however, felt that Cuba was too closely tied to the Soviet bloc and that Castro's complaint was primarily a cold war maneuver, as U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson described it. He accused Cuba and the Soviet bloc of gross misuse of the United Nations in an effort to divert attention from the ouster of Cuba from the inter-American system.

The only resolution put before the committee was sponsored by Czechoslovakia and Romania. Some of the nonaligned countries had no objections to terms of the proposal, but it was so closely linked to the charges of immigration that it was rejected by a vote of 10 to 9.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin was plainly upset by the vote. He commented that countries which voted against the Czechoslovak-Romanian resolution obviously believed in resolving disputes by force rather than by peaceful means.

Britain Sends Troops Into Georgetown

People Protest
Premier Jagan's
Stiff Tax Decrees

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—Demonstrators striking against the leftist Guiana government clashed with police and set fire to the center of this South American colonial capital Friday. Britain quickly dispatched a warship and airborne troops from the West Indies to help put down the uprising.

Three persons were reported killed in clashes with police.

Anti-riot forces fired into the mobs after first using tear gas on them.

Discontent with leftist Premier Cheddi Jagan erupted into demonstrations that got world attention during the visit here last week of Queen Elizabeth's husband, Prince Philip, on his South American tour.

The demonstrations accelerated on the subsequent announcement of Jagan's stiff new tax program.

Jagan is of East India origin, a Chicago-trained dentist and husband of a leftist Chicagoan and political firebrand, Janet Jagan. Calls for help

Prime Minister Jagan called for British reinforcements when a general strike called Monday against his government's heavy tax program erupted into violence.

Defying a government ban on demonstrations, thousands of strikers paraded through the city, fighting several pitched battles with police, who tried to disperse them with tear gas.

Opposition leaders Forbes Burnham and Peter D'Aguilar led a crowd of 20,000 demonstrators through a police cordon around Parliament buildings.

Jagan, who styles himself as a Marxist-Leninist, said big business elements were plotting against him.

An ugly situation also developed outside the city's electric power plant where a mob clashed with riot police. Police fired tear gas. Two persons were reported injured.

Brig. Derek Lister of Britain's Caribbean command was flying from Kingston, Jamaica, at the head of a company of about 150 men of the Royal Hampshire Regiment.

The British Defense Ministry in London announced that two additional companies from the East Anglia Regiment embarked on Royal Air Force transports and a chartered airliner in England and were due Saturday.

Firemen Dodge Reds' Bullets As Pair Escapes

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin firemen braved gunfire from East German police Friday to rescue an East Berlin mother and her 5-year-old son escaping to the West.

Police said the firemen were called to a house on the East Berlin side of the barbed wire barricade, separating West Berlin from East Germany on the outskirts of town, by persons who had noticed the 25-year-old mother indicating a desire to flee.

When they arrived on the scene, they spread their rescue nets to catch the child, thrown to them over the barricade from a window of the house by his mother.

But before the mother could jump into the net, East German police rushed up and opened fire. The firemen refused to retreat and held their ground until the mother also had jumped to safety.

West Berlin police showed up and fired warning shots to turn back the Communists. They said bullets hit the ground only about three yards from the firemen but no injuries were reported.

The incident took place near the Glienicke Bridge, where the Soviet spy, Col. Rudolf Abel, was traded last week for American U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

U.S.-Owned Phone Company Expropriated

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil (AP)—Leonel Brizola, brother-in-law of President Joao Goulart and governor of Rio Grande do Sul state, Friday expropriated the U.S.-owned National Telephone Co. here.

Brizola, an outspoken leftist, said the telephone takeover was carried out in the public interest and that the owners—International Telephone & Telegraph—would be paid 149 million cruzeiros—about $900,000 at the official rate—in compensation.

IT&T has operated the company in this southernmost Brazilian state and in nearby Parana State since 1927. The two divisions have about 70,000 phones.

In New York, an IT&T spokesman declined immediate comment on the expropriation but said the two operations represent a total investment of $16 million. The expropriation decree, signed by Brizola and his Cabinet, was published in the official state newspaper.

Brizola spokesmen charged among other things that National Telephone failed to provide sufficient service.

Two years ago Brizola took over the Rio Grande do Sul subsidiary of the American & Foreign Power Co.

The Brazilian constitution permits expropriation of private firms and property when the action is "brought about by public need or use, or is in the interests of the community." Just compensation is required.

Brizola said National Telephone had been operating in the state as a monopoly for more than 30 years, possessing only "the simple permission of state authorities."

The decree said National Telephone refused an invitation by the government to put 25 per cent of its capital into a state-owned communications system.

Miss Ann Harding Returns To Show

DETROIT (UPI)—Ann Harding, veteran stage and movie actress who collapsed during the opening performance of "General Seeger" Thursday night, was scheduled to resume her leading role Friday night in the best "show must go on" tradition.

Miss Harding said she would eat dinner in Harper Hospital here and then go directly to the theater for the evening performance.

"I want to allay the rumors that I won't be able to go on with the play," she said. "I was not suffering from nervous indigestion. I was overcome with the heat backstage."

Miss Harding co-stars in the play with William Bendix, who plays the title role.

Students Begin Picketing For World Peace

U.S. Extends Army Service In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The United States is going to triple the length of service of some of its Army men here, an informed source reported Friday.

About three-fourths of the estimated 4,000 U.S. servicemen here are assigned to a temporary six-months duty tour, but the informant said this is being extended to a permanent 18-month tour for some key personnel.

The extension, it was reported, applies to such men as pilots of the three Army helicopter companies now stationed in South Viet Nam.

Official information on the extension was classified—secret or confidential—presumably to avoid calling attention to the U.S. military buildup that has been going on since December to keep this Southeast Asian country from falling to Viet Cong Communist guerrillas and infiltrators from North Viet Nam.

A British note delivered to the Soviet Embassy in London charged North Vietnamese authorities were pursuing a policy of "seeking to overthrow the established government of South Viet Nam by force."

The British note rejected the Soviet contention that United States military assistance to South Viet Nam is aimed at turning South Viet Nam into a strategic bridgehead in Southeast Asia.

Rebellion in South Viet Nam was fomented, organized, and in part supplied and wholly directed from the North, the note added, and it called on the Kremlin to restrain the North Vietnamese and bring home to them the possible serious consequences of their actions.

The three U.S. helicopter companies, each with about 200 men, are engaged in what is called support work, transporting Vietnamese troops into combat and trading shots with the Communists when fired upon. At least two helicopters have been lost, but no Americans were killed in them. Vietnamese helicopter pilots are to take over the troop-carrying job eventually.

Dag Honored

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—City officials have believed to name a road Hammarskjöldsvägen in honor of the late U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Some of the questions were naive and seemed to indicate that the demonstrators felt they had the answer to world peace.

Goldmark said, "We come as much in support of President Kennedy's policies as in criticism. We just think there is more the government can do for disarmament than is being done now."

He stressed the points in the group's statement of policy, calling for announcement by the United States that it would not resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere; withdrawal from advance missile bases overseas; proposals that both East and West Germany be disarmed and made a neutral zone; and expanded economic, technical and educational aid to developing nations.

White House Butlers Serve Sidewalk Coffee

WASHINGTON (AP)—College and high school students picketing for peace got a cold shoulder from the weather man, hot coffee from President Kennedy and a chill at the State Department Friday.

The students descended upon Washington early to picket the White House and visit congressmen and government officials.

Student leaders said about 1,500 participated and they predicted nearly 3,000 from all over the nation would be here Saturday for the climax of the demonstration for what they call the "peace race."

Police forced students trying to picket the Russian Embassy to set their line of march 500 feet away—in conformance with District of Columbia law.

Snow pelted down for several hours and temperatures hovered near freezing but the pickets kept at it all day in relays.

In mid-afternoon, two White House butlers brought out a five-gallon can of coffee and a table with cups and everything required for sidewalk service. The students dropped out of line in little groups to drink coffee.

Student leaders angrily told a news conference they went to a State Department briefing prepared for a sober discussion of issues in the cold war but were received with condescension and sarcasm.

Peter Goldmark, of Harvard, said the delegation of students was greeted by "five lectures with brief question-and-answer periods in between."

The lecturers, he said, "treated us as if we were very, very young . . . and totally in the dark" about issues of the cold war.

Don Carter, of Berkeley, Calif., an official of the Turn Toward Peace Youth Council, said, "The general impression I got was that we were very much resented for daring to question the policies of the government. . . . Very little tact was used."

State Department officials said some of the questions were naive and seemed to indicate that the demonstrators felt they had the answer to world peace.

Goldmark said, "We come as much in support of President Kennedy's policies as in criticism. We just think there is more the government can do for disarmament than is being done now."

He stressed the points in the group's statement of policy, calling for announcement by the United States that it would not resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere; withdrawal from advance missile bases overseas; proposals that both East and West Germany be disarmed and made a neutral zone; and expanded economic, technical and educational aid to developing nations.

Young Wife, Four Children Shot To Death

Police Search For Army Doctor

By CHARLES WALTER
COLUMBIA, S. C. (UPI)—The attractive young wife and four small children of an Army doctor were found shot to death in their beds Friday and police began an immediate search for the physician.

An all-points alert was flashed for Dr. (Capt.) Vincent Madison, son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Madison of Syracuse, N.Y.

The victims were Madison's 33-year-old wife, Sally, and his four sons — Vincent Jr., 7, Mark 6, Brian 5 and Hugh 2.

The two older boys were found in a blood splattered double-decker bunk bed in a back bedroom of the family home. The two younger boys were found in single beds in a second bedroom.

Each had been shot several times.

The body of Mrs. Madison was in the master bedroom. It was not immediately determined how many times she had been shot. No weapon was found.

Police said Dr. Madison's green Ford — bearing license number E-147-626 — also was missing, but that they believed he was still in the area.

Neighbors Described Doctor
Neighbors described the 33-year-old physician as "reserved" and "very strict."

"Nobody else in the neighborhood could have been dead since Wednesday and nobody know it," said G. B. Davis, a railroad engineer who lives across the street.

Mrs. Madison was described as "very attractive," and neighbors said the Madison children got along well with other youngsters in the neighborhood.

Three red bicycles belonging to Madison children were found in the front yard. In the kitchen Mrs. Madison had proudly pinned up an art project of one of her sons — several cut-outs of four-leaf clovers pasted to a piece of art paper.

Failed To Show Up
Army officials at nearby Fort Jackson, where Madison was stationed, said the gynecologist had advised them last Wednesday that his family was sick and requested permission to stay home and attend them.

His request was granted, but when he failed to show up for duty Friday, as scheduled, an officer went to the home to investigate.

The colonel who went to the home immediately became suspicious when he saw 14 quarts of milk piled up on the front porch and the lights blazing in the house — a modest one-story, old-brick bungalow.

Police were summoned and they forced their way inside.

The phone was ringing when police first gained entrance, but when they answered it, the party at the other end hung up.

Witnesses said the living quarters of the house showed no signs of a struggle, and it wasn't until police entered the bedrooms that they were sure there had been foul play.

FBI Seeks Two Bank Robbers In Maryland Suburbs

BALTIMORE (AP) — Federal and state authorities continued their search Friday in Washington and its Maryland suburbs for two bank robbers, described by the FBI as "very dangerous."

The FBI believe Bobby Randall Wilcoxson, 32, of Duke, Okla., and Albert Frederick Nussbaum, 27, of Buffalo, N. Y., are in the area. They are wanted for killing a bank guard and shooting a policeman during a $33,000 bank robbery in New York last December.

Authorities said an 18-year-old girl and her five months old baby are accompanying the pair.

Federal warrants have been issued for Wilcoxson and Nussbaum who are suspected of a similar holdup in Washington late last year.

Legal Battle Threatened Over The 'Ark' And 'Dove'

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Miss Louise Magruder stood her ground Friday in the face of legal action from the state unless she returns two models of the "Ark" and the "Dove" to the state library.

The Annapolis genealogist disclosed that she had received a letter from Deputy Atty. Gen. Joseph S. Kaufman telling her if the models weren't returned by Feb. 10 "this office will institute necessary legal action to compel the return."

"We hope that you will accede to this demand and thus avoid embarrassment and expensive litigation," Kaufman said.

The problem was referred to the State Law Department Jan. 3 by Gov. Tawes and the Board of Public Works.

Miss Magruder, who has had the models in the 1930s and never gave them models in her possession since they were loaned to the Colonial Dames of America for an exhibit more than a year ago, contends they are the rightful property of a Baltimore man who built them in the 1930s and never gave them to the state.

She waited out Kaufman's deadline and then wrote to him Friday:

"If you can show me, or the newspapers, that the State of Maryland owns the models of the ship Ark and the pinnace Dove I will be only too glad to give the state possession."

Miss Magruder advised him that the models of the ships Maryland settlers arrived in belong to John Dernoga of Baltimore, who hasn't seen them since they were on loan to the Enoch Pratt Library years ago.

"The state may have been in possession of these models without knowing they belong to the builder," Miss Magruder told Kaufman. "Now that the State Law Department has been informed that it is believed they are privately owned, I will await your opinion 'and thus avoid embarrassment and expensive litigation.'"

Boy Tells Police He Shot Classmate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 14-year-old boy led police Friday to the body of a schoolmate in a national arboretum thicket and told them he had shot him because his classmate was harassing him for money.

The 15-year-old victim was Stanley Marshall, a Negro. The 14-year-old boy, also a Negro, was charged with homicide and held pending juvenile court action.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The reinstatement of one Patuxent Institution engineer and the transfer of another has been ordered by Russell S. Davis, the state personnel commissioner.

Chief engineer Edmund O. Schaefer Sr. and Madison H. Sailors were suspended last month in a dispute with the superintendent at Patuxent over use of prison help in the prison boiler rooms.

Davis ordered Schaefer back to duty with back pay, and transferred Sailors. Davis said Sailors created a serious situation when he shut down the heating plant.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A young father convicted of fatally beating his 3-month-old daughter and breaking the arm of her twin sister has been sentenced to eight years in the House of Correction. He is Mitchell P. Homer, convicted by Judge Shirley B. Jones of manslaughter in the death of Charlene, Homer said he was taking the blame for whoever was responsible.

FISHING CREEK, Md. (AP)—An explosion and fire destroyed a bungalow Friday but the five members of the Granville Parker family escaped without harm.

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—"It is a wonderful experience to be opening rather than closing one of these institutions," said Gov. Tawes as a new savings and loan association office was dedicated. Both Tawes and Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan attended the opening of the County Federal Savings and Loan Association Office. A number of such organizations recently have been put in receivership. But Tawes said the majority of the firms are reputable.

Members fear that the FAA will discriminate against Friendship International Airport in favor of National and Dulles—when it opens this fall—because of the government ownership.

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—Four persons were convicted Friday of trespassing in cases connected with demonstrations against segregation along U. S. 40 Dec. 16. The four were James D. The men were fined the maximum of $100 and costs. Miss Allston was fined $50 and costs. The offenses occurred at the Double T Diner.

Md. Movie Censors Dislike Nudity Rule
BALTIMORE (AP) — Members of the Maryland Board of Motion Picture Censors said Friday they are disturbed by a ruling that nudity alone is not sufficient ground for preventing showing of the movie.

The opinion was expressed in a letter to Sen. J. Raymond Buffington, D-Balto 3rd, who has proposed a bill for tighter censorship.

The board, members said, is "particularly disturbed by court decisions which hold that nudity alone is not obscene." They said passage of Buffington's bill would "do a great deal to eliminate much of the harmful" material in some movies.

Buffington's measure would give the three-member censorship board authority to license certain films for exhibition only to persons 18 or older. It also would provide for criminal penalties.

The letter to Buffington was signed by board members Norman C. Mason, Rosalyn M. Shecter and Mary Avara.

S&L Official Invokes Fifth In U.S. Court

BALTIMORE (AP)—William L. Robinson, vice president of First Continental Savings and Loan Association of Chevy Chase, repeatedly invoked the Fifth Amendment in federal court Friday.

Robinson, who also is president of Illinois Mortgage Corp., refused to say where he got a minute book of the Illinois firm which he later turned over to a federal grand jury.

Under questioning by Arnold M. Weiner, special federal prosecutor, Robinson said:

"I decline to answer on the grounds that it may tend to incriminate me."

He gave that answer to 19 questions during a 20-minute period at a hearing conducted by Judge R. Dorsey Watkins to determine whether Illinois Mortgage should be convicted of contempt for failing to turn over its books and records to the grand jury Jan. 30.

The government wants the records in its investigation of a $19,300,000 transaction involving two land tracts in southern Maryland and Virginia, known as Linda City and Leisure City.

Robinson declined to say whether he had asked J. Kenneth Edlin about records of Illinois Mortgage. Edlin, 63, Miami, was listed as president of Illinois Mortgage in 1959. Edlin is awaiting sentencing for mail fraud. He pleaded no contest.

Police Describe Wildest Chase

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Trooper Walter D. Ryan arrested Jim Howard Schreffler, 26, Ryan said, after the following series of events:

During a 10-mile, 15 minute chase, Ryan said Schreffler drove 65 and 90 miles an hour—in the wrong traffic lanes—of a busy, divided four-to eight-lane highway, speeded up and down highway ramps, recovered from two spinouts in which his car made complete 360-degree turns on the highway and ignored police bullets.

Continued to flee even after a state policeman crashed his cruiser into the pursued car.

Asked why he fled, Schreffler said: "I don't know. Afraid of policemen I guess."

He was charged with careless and reckless driving.

Another GOP Guest

Alf M. Landon, right, the 1936 Republican candidate for president, follows former President Harry Truman down a stairs during a tour of the Truman Library at Independence, Mo., yesterday. Mr. Landon dropped in unexpectedly. It was the second time in recent months that a well known Republican has visited the library. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower called on Mr. Truman and toured the building in November. (AP Photofax)

Scully Advises McKeldin Not To Seek Office

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP)—A Republican candidate for governor told Theodore McKeldin Friday that his record in the history of savings and loan regulation would harm GOP election chances if the former governor chooses to run again.

David Scull of Montgomery County sent a telegram to McKeldin urging him to drop any plans he might have about becoming a candidate for governor.

Scully, a county Republican leader and Silver Spring businessman, had said earlier he would withdraw from the gubernatorial race if a candidate stepped forward who could gain public confidence. He said he would not step aside for McKeldin.

In the telegram, Scull said McKeldin's failure to seek savings and loans legislation during his administration as governor "would deprive the rest of our candidates of their best issue."

Scully's wire said McKeldin's loss in the recent Baltimore mayoralty race "cast serious doubt on the wisdom of your candidacy now."

The Declaration of Independence was placed in the care of the National Archives in 1952.

THE PROOF OF PRAYER

Ask—and it shall be given you. Seek—and ye shall find. Knock—and it shall be opened unto you.

The promise of Jesus is all the proof a child asks. But, knowing that we grownups are often more inclined to skepticism than faith, Christ continues:

What man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone—or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?

And while the multitude pondered the implication of these challenges, the Lord offered his conclusion . . . so simple as to appear obvious . . . so profound as to convince all but an atheist:

If ye, then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children—how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask Him!

But His real proof you'll find in the experience of prayer . . . in your church . . . in your home . . . in the sacred quiet moments of every day.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Purse Organization

A woman has only her purse, only one receptacle in which to pack her "office away from the office" and her "dressing table away from home." That is a large assignment for any purse. It's not surprising that so many of them become a jumble of untidiness.

To outfit your purse skillfully, decide on an over-all color scheme and assemble your accessories accordingly. The list that follows is complete except for special needs; each item has been chosen for its particular efficiency.

For the "business" department, select a wallet with change purse attached, a small notebook with perforated sheets that can be disposed of as notations become outdated, an automatic pen or pencil (is there anything more unsightly than chewed or broken pencil stubs?), a miniature address book, "specs" case, and if you smoke, a cigarette case and lighter or good-looking book matches.

For the "beauty" department, a cosmetic case that will hold a comb, tiny hair and clothing brushes, deodorant stick, pill box, breath sweetener, books of emeries and tissue, and a flask of scent makes a most important contribution to purse neatness. File your compact and lipstick directly in your bag so you need not open your cosmetic kit in public when only a quick touch-up is needed. A mirror that clamps around your lipstick saves many a tangle with a compact, too. Line up all this in your bag like ballet dancers in a row and you have everything neatly at hand.

But even those whose purses are neat and well-organized sometimes err in the freshness of their purse linings. Keep on hand the liquid and cream cleaners and the brushes needed to keep linings free from stain and soil. Use them to houseclean before the need ever is apparent. When the inside of a bag deteriorates but the outside is still good, have the old lining restored or a new one inserted at a renovating shop. In metropolitan areas, such shops can easily be found.

Let your purse tell naught about you but what is charming!

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

NEWS SATURDAY Ann Landers DEAR ANN LANDERS: What would you do if you were in my shoes? I've been going with Herbert for six months. I am 23. He is 27. We met at work.

Herbert's parents live in this city but I've never met them. He never suggested it until last week. Now it seems his mother would like me to come to dinner on his birthday which will be next month.

Herbert has already told me what to wear, how to fix my hair and what to say. He suggested I leave the nail polish off and drop the hem of my good black dress a couple of inches.

Herbert has warned me against talking politics with his father as my views are different from his and there may be an argument.

I've had so much coaching I'm a wreck. I repeat — what would you do if you were in my shoes?

— 8 BALL

DEAR 8 BALL: I'd tell Herbert it would be easier for him to get another girl than for you to do an overnight retooling job.

His unwillingness to present you as you are suggests that he is fearful his folks would not approve. You can take it from there.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I hired a very good man to work in my service station. He's the best worker I've had in a long time and I'd hate to let him go.

The problem is his wife. She comes to the station three times a day, kids around with the customers and interferes with her husband's work. At noon she brings him a hot lunch. Then she's back again about 3 o'clock. At 5:30 she is hanging around some more to drive him home at quitting time, which is 6:30.

I have a wife, too, but she never comes down to the station unless it's to help out with the bookkeeping. I don't think a woman belongs around her husband's place of business unless there's a good reason.

How can I get this across to him without being too blunt?

— STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: The direct approach is best. Tell the fellow, as you told me, that he is the best worker you've had in a long time and you'd hate to let him go. Explain that his wife's presence at the station interferes with his work, and it's up to him to tell her so.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Next month I am to be a bridesmaid for a dear friend. She is marrying a young man from a prominent family so there have been many showers and parties.

I want to give her a unique shower so I hit on the idea of a "pantry supply party." By this I mean food stuffs, such as flour, sugar, spices, detergent, floor wax and so on.

I discussed this with a few girls and they all thought it was terrific. Then I received a call from the bride's mother. She was raging mad. According to her such a party was "an abomin-

'Buzzing' An Act Of Provocation

The irresponsible "buzzing" of Allied planes flying through the Berlin air corridors at altitudes the Soviets have arbitrarily staked out as their own has quite rightly drawn a stiff protest from the Western powers.

Since 1945, when the four-power agreements for the control and administration of newly defeated and divided Germany were signed, the Russians have consistently tried to chip away at the rights of the Western nations in Germany.

By now everyone must realize what a source of international friction is the very existence of free West Berlin. Our right of free access to West Berlin through and over Communist East Germany has been seriously interfered with often enough and in such ways that there is no longer any question that the Soviet Union would do its best to make our stay in Berlin as uncomfortable as possible.

The Western powers are more than justified in sending planes through the designated air lanes to Berlin at the times and altitudes which the Russians would unilaterally reserve for their own flights. By so insisting on our rights we may be running a risk that an incident will occur that would have very serious consequences. But, as we have learned too often in dealing with the Soviets, it is sometimes necessary to run very great risks in order to preserve our position and our rights. If we don't exercise a right, we soon lose it. And when we lose one, we soon lose others. And still others.

The buzzing of Allied planes by Soviet fighters is an act of provocation and should be dealt with as such by the Western governments. Repeated protests and continued flights seem to be called for.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Poverty Of Logic

It is possible to be so logical that minus negative plus and one thing comes to mean nothing against another. Mathematicians and philosophers are capable of that kind of pilpulism. They can deal with a theory until they have slaughtered the practical and nothing remains for them but words which bump into each other and flash for a second and are gone in the split second.

A friend of mine who has undoubtedly found life disappointing wonders how I can find anything to praise in a world held together by spit and molasses. What he does not understand is that I am enthusiastic that it holds together at all, man having a way of tearing everything apart as children tear paper dolls. We could, of course, make a worse mess than we have of the world we live in but the human mind and spirit emerges and finds justification for virtue and for life.

My friend writes me:

"Holding a thing together despite an absurdity does not always represent significant statesmanship. In this case it means holding together an organization which has become a peace-disturbing organization under the control of the Asian-African-Soviet bloc, which preaches and practices the holy mission of conducting wars of liberation and uses the UN as a forum for subversive propaganda against other nations. It is true that the UN has certain success of mediation to its credit, but the same things could have been accomplished by other devices without fostering a machine for world government which is in the hands of our enemies."

My friend finds in the UN the imperfections of an organization which lives by a majority vote, namely that the majority will often consist of the least intelligent and will express itself in unsatisfactory terminology. That happens all the time in the United States when we are suddenly faced by some politician whose manners are undignified. We shrug our shoulders and hope for the best and it often does work out surprisingly well.

After all, none of the great statesmen of the world were trained for their jobs—not Caesar or Napoleon, although Alexander was brought to light by none other than Aristotle who wrote so wisely on how men should govern themselves.

We have done remarkably well by a hit and miss method, even in this country where George Washington was advised by Alexander Hamilton and Thomas Jefferson, extraordinary amateurs who risked success against the tide of the violence of their own opinions.

What can be said of the United Nations is that it has existed less than twenty years and has not yet fallen apart; that its members do not all pay their dues and fees; that the white nations have failed to prove their supremacy for other reasons than the existence of the United Nations; that during a period of universal revolution and continuous war we have not discovered an alternative for war other than the United Nations.

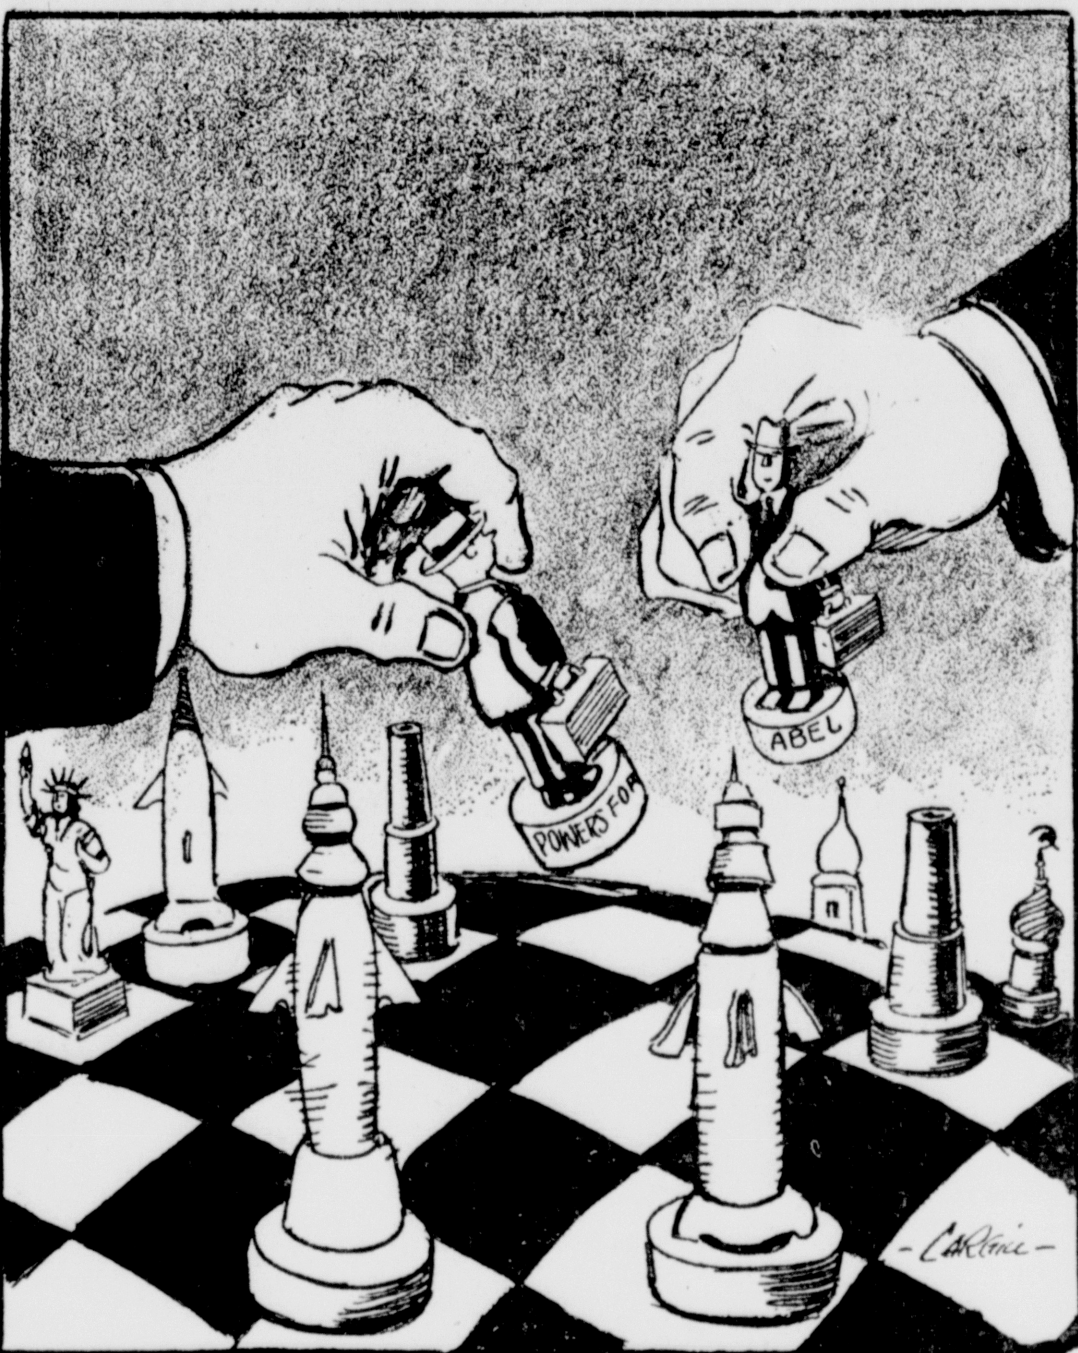

Is this perfection? Of course not! It is a strident effort by man to find a technique for living together without constant war. It would be so much easier to hold the world together in great empires, to suppress every expression of independence and to have a council of five or ten to decide all questions with unerring wisdom.

Unfortunately we sent too many black and yellow boys to school and they have read the same books that the white boys read and they wonder if certain rules of life hold for the whites, why do they not hold for them. And they go in for biology and anthropology and all the learned disciplines and they wonder what is the essential difference between one group and another. And suddenly they discover the meaning of physical power.

At that point we must either recognize the Biblical brotherhood of man or the biological kinship of species or we are licked by the majority vote in the United Nations. My friend does not like that. Too long, he has lived as a superior man, glorying in his production of the Greek poets, of Shakespeare, Goethe, Beethoven and Tchaikovsky, and he asks the blacks and the yellows what they have contributed to civilization.

I fear that if my friend does not choose murder as his device he must try something like the United Nations because we have gone too far.

Facts About Our Vietnam Activities Suppressed

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Sometimes it gets really difficult to explain to the people the news of what our government is doing. Often the facts are intentionally suppressed by the government itself for "security reasons." But more often what appear to be contradictions in policy are not explained at all.

Today the United States is engaged in an undeclared war in Southeast Asia. Congress has not authorized military action of any kind by our army units stationed in Vietnam. The explanation given is that a war officially isn't a war if the United States happens to be assisting the central government in a country that has asked for help.

At his press conference on February 7, President Kennedy said this to say:

"There is a war going on in South Vietnam and I think there were over 500 killings. . . . (There are) assassinations and bombings and the casualties are high. . . . It is a subterranean war, a guerrilla war of increasing ferocity."

"The United States . . . has been assisting Vietnam economically . . . and also sent training groups out there, which have been expanded in recent weeks, as the attacks on the government and the people of South Vietnam have increased."

This has not been regarded as an adequate explanation. It so happens that an American newsman in Saigon, the capital of Vietnam, trying to get the facts on the ground, was frustrated in his attempts to uncover the truth and sent back this message to his publication:

"Restrictions imposed by the U. S. Embassy make it impossible to report fully on the extent of American participation in the war effort here. We are limited in our efforts to go out and see for ourselves exactly what the American forces are doing."

"The Vietnamese government and Army are not involved in the restrictions. And American military commanders in charge of operations state that security is not involved. It can be vitally important that Americans understand events here. But the curtain of secrecy looks like a U. S. embassy effort to confuse and disguise the situation."

Since the foregoing message appeared in print a few days ago, President Kennedy was asked at his press conference this week about America's military activities in South Vietnam and he referred to "this Communist insurgent movement" and said the United States had been supplying

"logistic assistance, transportation assistance, training," and he added that "we have a number of Americans taking part in that effort."

Mr. Kennedy went on to say that he had discussed the matter with bipartisan groups in Congress, that the whole thing is "a matter of great sensitivity," and that he wished both parties would "leave these matters to be discussed by responsible leaders of both sides."

This was also the President's reply to criticism voiced by the Republican National Committee, which charged, in effect, that Mr. Kennedy had been less than candid with the American people as

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

CLARENCE CANNON — Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., is chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, and is constantly being badgered by his fellow congressmen to act favorably on their pet projects.

It is nothing for Cannon to receive pleas from several members of Congress a day asking that he favor their request for funds to put a bridge across some unnamed creek.

President Kennedy's submission of his annual budget to Congress brought to mind an incident that occurred several years ago. Cannon was faced with the necessity of putting a $1 billion bid on public works projects for the ensuing year, but was being importuned by many of his colleagues in the above-mentioned fashion. Whenever Cannon would point out to a congressman that many of their colleagues had similar requests, the colleague would urge him to disregard the others, but grant his.

Finally, Cannon walked into his committee one day and proposed an amendment to the public works bill raising the $1 billion appropriation to $18 billion and demanding a vote on it. The vote was 43 to 1 against, with Cannon casting the only vote in favor of the change.

Cannon thereupon threw up his hands and, concealing a smile, said, "I'm sorry gentlemen, I tried, I tried."

After that vote he was able to tell the special-pleading congressmen that his own committee had voted him down and there was nothing further he could do.

Case Of The Doctor And The Forgotten Prune Pit

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

"A person who takes care of himself has a fool for a doctor" is an adage that applies equally well to physicians, who are expected to know better. They are human, like their patients, and react in the same way to illness, medications, emotions — and to prune pits.

"The Case of the Perilous Pit" appeared in a recent issue of the New England Journal of Medicine. A middle-aged physician, while reading at the breakfast table, swallowed the pit of an extra large prune. He decided to let well enough alone and await developments, and promptly forgot the incident.

Six or seven weeks later he was conscious of a mild but steady ache in the upper abdomen. It seemed to be aggravated by coffee so he gave up this beverage. After all, he had been drinking too much coffee lately and he reasoned it was stimulating his spastic bowel or he was about to develop an ulcer.

But the anticipated good results did not materialize. He examined his abdomen with his hands and concluded he must have peptic ulcer. He resorted to milk, antacids, and a bland diet. But pain persisted.

He told his wife about his distress after she complained about his restlessness and inability to sit quietly. They compromised and arrangements were made for X-rays. The contours of the esophagus, stomach, and duodenum were normal. Ulcer was not present.

The barium continued into the small intestine and approximately one foot from the stomach, the material hit a snag and was forced to flow around a mass about the size of a prune pit. Lesions in this part of the intestine usually are cancerous so a second X-ray was suggested as a double check before surgery. This time, the X-ray specialist massaged the area thoroughly, to get a better view. Suddenly the "tumor" was dislodged and began moving. It proved to be the prune pit and the physician lived happily — and wiser — ever after.

FALSIES AND CANCER

C. S. writes: Could breast cancer be caused by wearing a foam rubber padded bra?

REPLY

We don't know the cause of breast cancer but I doubt if wearing falsies is responsible. After all, the disease occurred long before brassieres were invented. In

News Of White House Twist Party Wasn't Supposed To Leak But Did

By Drew Pearson

Evans of the New York Herald Tribune.

The leaks actually came from the horde of about 50 guests imported from New York, who next day were itching to spill everything about the glamor night at the White House.

Glamorous Guests

Among the guests were not only such JFK favorites as Prince Oleg Cassini, brother of Cholly Knickerbocker and dress designer for Jackie Kennedy, but Tom Watson, head of International Business Machines; also Chiquita Astor, who is married to the youngest son of Lady Astor and loves an excuse to pop across the Atlantic; also Fifi Fell and Patsy Pulitzer Preston, the former Vogue model.

Then there was Magda Moyano, the Argentine beauty, her raven locks piled regally on top of her head. She is usually squired by Congressman John Brandemas of South Bend, Ind., but on this night John was left at home. To make up for the lack of Washington bachelors, the First Lady imported an assortment of debonair New Yorkers—Michael Forrestal, son of the late Secretary of Defense; Peter Duchin, son of the orchestra leader; Clayton Fritchey, assistant to Adlai Stevenson; George Plimpton, son of Ambassador Francis T. P. Plimpton—most of them very young.

Despite these importations, the party was still so short of men that some of the most glamorous dolls ever seen in Washington had to sit demurely around the wall waiting to do the twist.

One guest looking at the dazzling array of pink and cream colored beauty, remarked: "It makes you think of having too much ice cream."

With the President himself on the dance floor, his Cabinet members more or less had to get into the act. Bob McNamara proved to be the most agile of the Cabinet twisters. Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon complained later that he was exhausted.

Parisian Twisters

The ladies with the sexiest twist were two 18- and 19-year-old Parisian dolls, house guests of Madame Alphonse, the French ambassador. Their evening gowns were a bit Bikini-esque and if they had put on their hip-swinging display of twisting in the Palace de la Republique they would have caused even greater riots for the Paris police.

Sen. Claiborne Pell, the young diplomat from Rhode Island whose wife is an heiress to the A&P grocery chain, looked immaculate, as did his handsome colleague from Missouri, Stuart Symington; and his slow-speaking fellow Senator from Kentucky, John Sherman Cooper.

Bernard Lanvin, whose perfumes in Paris and on Fifth Avenue, admired the Texas yellow gown of Lady Bird Johnson. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., who hasn't attended as young a party since his daddy was in the White House, put on a skit illustrating the difference between Prince Oleg Cassini, who is descended from the Czarist nobility, and Prince Radziwill, who is descended from Polish nobility.

It being Friday, fish was served—but what fish!—poached in a creamy sauce of white wine. The chef that Jackie Kennedy wanted to steal from the French Embassy couldn't have done better, and Ambassador Alphonse himself testified to that—especially when the dessert of soufflé macaroon was served.

Meanwhile three musical teams—the Air Force singers, Lester Lanin's strollers, and a U. S. Marine combo—kept everyone both entertained and dancing. They didn't stop playing until 4:30 a. m.

It was a great evening! And everyone is hoping that Congressman H. R. Gross, the mean old Republican economist from Waterloo, Ia., won't get too mean. He has a habit of getting up on the House floor and reminding people that they, the taxpayers, put up the money to pay the bills at the White House.

Truman-Go-Round

Said Harry Truman on coming back to Washington: "When a fellow becomes a has-been and his friends still honor him, then a fellow knows who his real friends are." . . . "I live in the best town in Missouri," says HST, "of which Kansas City is a suburb. However, no city is any greater than the citizens who make it up." . . . Introduced the other day to an audience as "the greatest entertainer in the United States," Truman replied: "If I'm an entertainer on my own hook, it's unintentional, not by profession."

Dancing And Hunger

By John Crosby

RIO DE JANEIRO.

Right after Punta del Este it was fashionable around here for the politicians to explode into print with the cry that "Brazil was sitting on a powder keg." The powder keg metaphor is very popular here, but one can't help the feeling that no one can sit on a powder keg more lightly than a Brazilian. In fact, he probably wouldn't sit on it; he'd stand to bang out rhythms on it and the children would start dancing in the streets.

Carnival is still three weeks away but the fever in the Brazilian blood has already begun to boil and bubble. Anyone with a drum—and everyone seems to have a drum—can start an impromptu dance in the streets by banging on it. They don't need the melody, just the rhythm, and pretty soon the shapely Brazilian bottoms begin to shake and weave with practiced immemorial skill. They dance in the streets. They dance on the sidewalks. They dance in the nightclubs here with an abandon, a joy, a lighthearted gaiety that makes it extremely difficult to concentrate on Brazil's staggering social problems.

I had lunch the other day with a Brazilian who comes from the northeast, where 22,000,000 Brazilians live in a state of the most appalling poverty.

"What do they do in the northeast?" I asked.

"They starve," he said cheerfully.

Lately, the northeast section, centering around Recife, has received tons of publicity in the United States. The Sudene plan developed by the Brazilian economist Celso Furtado has attracted the attention of the Administration, right up to President Kennedy himself. Our decision to help out or not to help out will be made soon. The Sudene is an immensely ambitious scheme to industrialize the area and resettle its population, comparable in scale to our TVA in the South. And success or failure, they say, will mean the difference between whether Brazil falls into the hands of the Communists or not.

Well, some people say that others will tell you cynically that the northeast and its starvation are simply getting an inordinate amount of belated recognition in the U. S. press.

"After all," said one Brazilian to me, "the northeast is not a new problem. People have been starving up there for 50 years before the Associated Press discovered the area." That's the difference between the Latin temperament and the Anglo-Saxon urged to do something now, this minute. It's difficult to talk in recognizable terms to one another. A Hindu philosopher just passed through this lovely city and he wrote back to his own people in gentle wonder that Brazil was "the only working anarchy in the world." Barry

Goldwater, who feels that the best government is the least government, would be absolutely enchanted with this place.

The Brazilians haven't got any government. Well, almost none after Janio Quadros, the brilliant but unstable President, drifted out of the country in a huff. The Brazilians were saddled with Jongo Goulart. They don't trust Goulart, so they stripped the Presidency of most of its powers and scattered them among the Parliament, a Prime Minister, and his cabinet—so that no one really can get anything done.

The situation is further complicated by the intense unpopularity of the new capital, Brasilia. Brazilian legislators loathe the place so intensely that they never go there. Consequently it's almost impossible to get a quorum of legislators to pass a bill. The Parliament is in special session now, but it took a week before a quorum got together. About the only thing the Brazilian Parliament has accomplished is the one bill they shouldn't have passed (the Assembly has passed it, the Senate hasn't yet)—a bill aimed at foreign investment. Foreign investment is one of Brazil's greatest needs and this bill—passed by a coalition of the extreme right and the extreme left—is likely to scare foreign capital away from Brazil for years. The bill will almost certainly be amended but the harm is already done as far as scaring capital away is concerned.

"Four-handed government," says Gov. Carlos Lacerda, the very witty conservative Governor of this province, "is for monkeys—not for humans." This is typical of the Brazilian style of politics. A turn of phrase is very important. It's not what you do in politics as much as how you do it. I asked Lacerda what he thought of the Alliance for Progress and I got a bright lecture about the American idea that American dollars will solve any problem.

"Democracy can be saved only by those who believe in it," said Lacerda. "I don't despise money, but if we stay in the field of economics, we'll never save this country from the Communists. The danger of Communism is that it is spreading out here, not only in the poorer sections but among the most prosperous sections. It is infiltrating respectable elements of the press and labor. Lots of people think that if you feed the people, that's enough, but this is a battle of ideas, this is a battle for the minds of men." Lacerda, like many Latin Americans, thinks we North Americans are much too materialistic in our preoccupations.

The tiny isle of St. Helena, Napoleon's exile inland in the south Atlantic, has no internal mail system.

Off to the day's work. The loggers, warmly clad, carry power saws, hand axes, for their logging amid the quiet of the deep woodland snows.

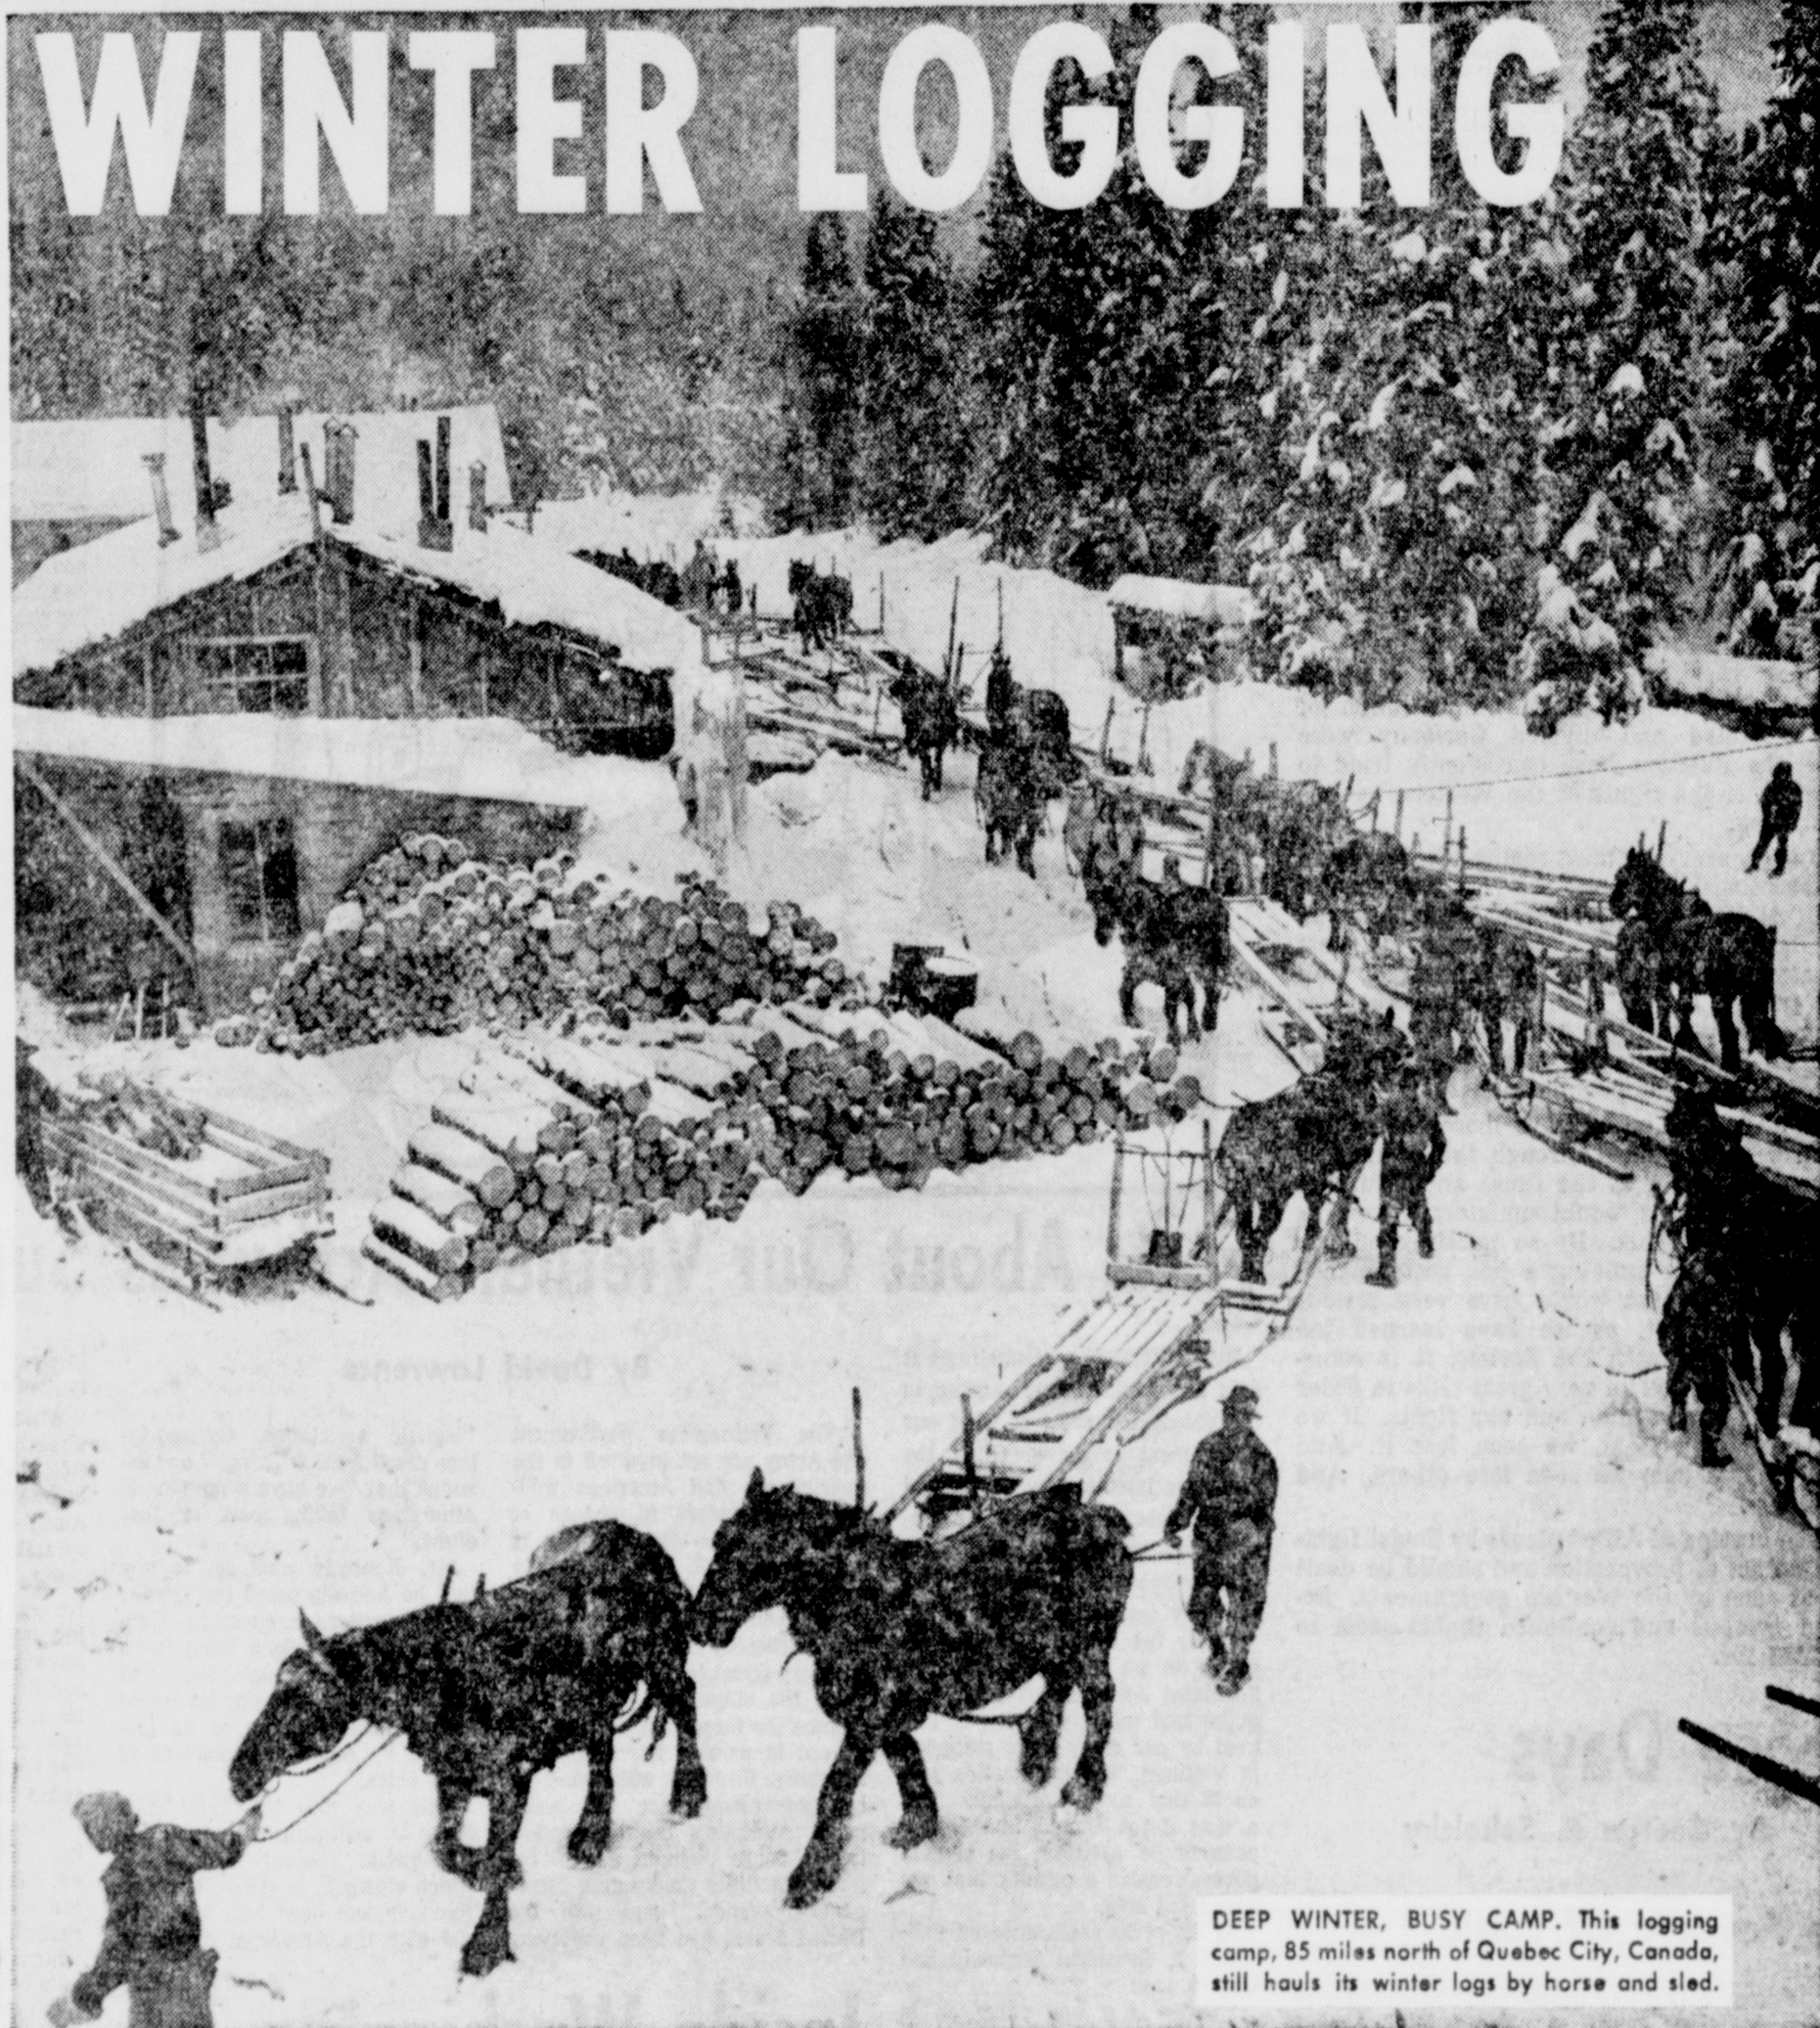

The long Canadian winter of deep snows and icy blasts hold no terror for the hardy woodsmen.

From late autumn, when the first snow falls, until the first thaws of spring, the forests east of the Rockies ring with the sound of the axe and the power saw and buzz with the movement of men, horses, and machines engaged in the task of harvesting some 350 million cubic feet of wood—over half the nation's annual total.

Though many come and go, some 50,000 men are engaged at the season's peak. The expert loggers, mostly French-Canadian, spend as much as three months in the woods, take home about $2,000 clear after their stint in the frozen forest. They work eight hours a day, live in camps set up long before the men arrive.

Though mechanical logging is increasing with the use of the power saw, snowmobile, giant tractor, and multi-purpose harvesting machine, the veteran lumberjack is still on the job with his axe and bucksaw, and horses, 12,000 of them, are still used to haul the big logs away.

Canada's winter logging operations are pictured here.

DEEP WINTER, BUSY CAMP. This logging camp, 85 miles north of Quebec City, Canada, still hauls its winter logs by horse and sled.

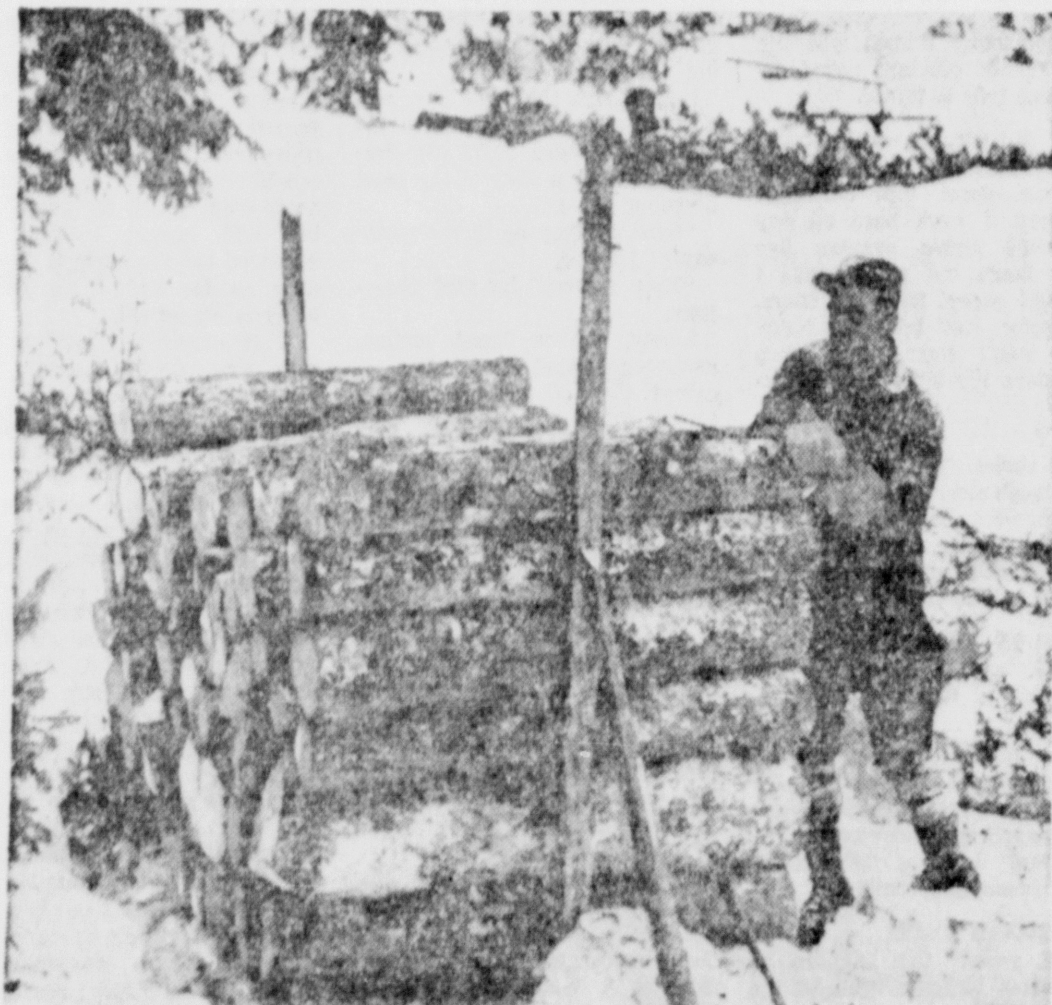

Work goes on after a fresh fall of snow. Loggers trim cut trees near their camp in Quebec Province.

Keeping Up With Hollywood by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Just to give you a rough idea of what MGM thinks of Yvette Mimieux since "Light in the Piazza," Robert Stevens flew in from London to test her for "The Cool of the Day," which will be made in Greece in the summer.

With Stevens was Richard John, English actor who played in "Never So Few" with Frank Sinatra and Gina Lollobrigida. An extensive test was made of Yvette and John together.

John Houseman, who will produce this movie, is in Greece. Stevens directed "To Thank A Fool" with Susan Hayward and MGM thought well enough of him to put him under contract.

The best assurance of an income Gregory Peck has ever had, he says, comes from "Guns of Navarone," of which he owns 10 per cent. He said he doesn't get any of it, however, until the costs and exploitation is paid. The picture has already grossed $24,000,000 to date, and still has 5,000 more bookings on its current schedule.

Greg said that after a few days of shooting on "To Kill a Mockingbird," he's sure that it is the easiest role he's ever had and he laughed when he said it. "I play the father of two children," he said, "and that comes natural to me."

"I couldn't decide what to send Buddy for Valentine's," Greer Garson told me, "so I wrapped a big red ribbon around myself and walked in on him at Dallas, with a sign 'Here's Your Valentine.'"

Greer has been at her Beverly Hills home because of major surgery which her aunt, Mrs. Evelyn Murray, underwent a few weeks ago. Mrs. Murray is Greer's beloved mother's sister and she has been making her home with Greer. Greer said she is hoping to bring Buddy Fongelson back with her. She doesn't want to be separated so much.

I've heard of people having bad memories and forgetting things such as their right age, but I've never heard of an actor forgetting THREE films he made which is what has happened to Clifton Webb.

All Clifton's biographies state that "Laura," in 1944, was his first movie. The other day Lester Donahue's book, "The History of Silent Pictures," came on the stands revealing that Webb had appeared in "Poly With a Past," "Heart of a Siren" and "New Toys," all silent pictures.

"Perfectly true," says the red-faced Mr. W., "but I made those

Fire Damages 2-Story Home In LaVale

A dentist's appointment caused LaVale volunteer firemen to breathe a sigh of relief yesterday after they broke into a burning home in that community.

Answering a call to the residence occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wandless, 522 Braddock Avenue, firemen were informed by neighbors that they thought Mrs. Wandless and a small child were in a second-story room.

Dense smoke was pouring from under the eaves and the firemen broke into the two-story stucco home after donning gas masks and air packs.

However, a thorough search failed to locate the woman and child. Moments later firemen were informed that the two had gone to a dentist.

Paul L. Boch, president of the LaVale department, reported spontaneous combustion in a cabinet beneath basement steps was the cause of the fire.

Paint and other fluids stored in the cabinet caught fire and the flames ate their way into the joints of the first floor and up the second story stairwell.

Damage will run into thousands of dollars, he estimated. Water had to be relayed in lines from a hydrant on Route 40.

There was a 75 per cent loss to the interior of the home, according to Assistant Fire Chief Jerry Proud.

Twenty firemen responded and were at the scene for three hours with two pumps and an equipment truck.

Summoned when firemen were informed that neighbors thought the mother and child were in the house were the ambulances from the Corriganville Fire Department and the McDonald Ambulance Service in Cumberland.

Clover Seed Supply Is Low

Allegany County Agent Joseph M. Steger yesterday issued a reminder to county farmers that the demand of high quality red clover is high while the supply of high quality seed lots is very low. Many farmers will experience difficulty obtaining sufficient quantities of good seed. Those interested in purchasing good seed should order early to insure delivery.

Because of the shortage it is important that the buyer observe labels carefully. The Maryland Seed Inspection Service has warned the public that there are many low quality seed lots on the market. Some lots are low in purity and germination. Many seed lots also contain harmful noxious weed seeds such as dodder and Johnson grass.

For those farmers using their own seed or purchasing seed from a neighbor it is suggested that the seed be cleaned by a reliable, well-equipped cleaner, then submit a representative sample to the county agent or the State Seed Laboratory at College Park for purity and germination tests.

Watershed Lab Again Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., proposed Thursday that $150,000 for a watershed management laboratory at Parsons, W. Va., be included in President Kennedy's forestry program budget.

The Parsons project was excluded from the budget, which recommended $750,000 worth of construction in seven states.

TB Association Receives Copies Of New Booklet

The Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association has received a number of copies of the 1961 edition of "Diagnostic Standards and Classification of Tuberculosis."

This publication is widely accepted by physicians and is considered an authoritative guide in its field.

Copies of the 56-page book already have been distributed to the public health nurses in Garrett and Allegany counties.

Physicians in the area who have not received a copy of the book and who wish to have one may contact the TB office at 129½ South Liberty Street, or by phoning PA 2-1500.

The book has been completely rewritten to provide up-to-date chapters on diagnostic techniques, and conforms with the rapidly changing problems of TB control.

LaVale Firemen To Mark 29th Anniversary

The LaVale Volunteer Fire Department will celebrate its 29th anniversary today at 6:30 p. m. in the fire hall.

J. Glenn Beall Jr. will be toastmaster and Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey will be the speaker. Prior to the time Judge Cobey was appointed to the bench, he served for 18 years as the company's attorney.

Among the guests will be Howard A. Keller, Pikeville, president of the Maryland State Firemen's Association; Leslie J. Clark, the company's attorney who is also county attorney; Rev. B. Finney Bragg, pastor of LaVale Baptist Church, and Rev. Hartley L. Wigfield, pastor of LaVale Assembly of God Chapel. The dinner will be served by the Ladies Auxiliary.

At the meeting this week, Fire Chief James Lear reported on two alarms.

Cromwell Zembower, secretary, spoke on the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association meeting held Sunday. Zembower also informed members of the routine needed to obtain firemen's auto license tags.

Members of the ladies auxiliaries will be able to purchase these special plates this year. Application forms should be in the hands of Paul L. Boch, president, by Saturday, March 3.

James Schell asked for addresses of firemen, active, life or special members, who have changed residences during the past year.

Approval was made of the request of the LaVale Lions Club to use the fire hall kitchen and parking lot for the Sports Car Race breakfast May 12 and May 13.

New York Files Objection To B&O Merger

Only two objections were filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission on the move of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway to acquire control of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The deadline for filing protests was Thursday. Objections were received from the State of New York and the New York Port Authority.

Both sent witnesses to Washington last summer to testify, in behalf of New York Central's bid to acquire control of B&O.

The New York Central, which since the hearings wants to merge with the Pennsylvania Railroad, withdrew as a suitor for B&O.

But just because the Central has dropped its case, the two governmental agencies have not changed their basic position.

With the deadline for protests having passed, the ICC now can begin deliberating its decision on a petition which, if granted, could speed up the B&O control case.

The C&O and B&O in their petitions, proposed waiving the hearing examiner's report on the case which occupied the hearing officer's calendar for a good part of last summer.

When the NYC dropped out, C&O and B&O moved to waive the examiner's recommendation. If this is waived, the two railroads then can take their case to the full commission.

A decision from the ICC as to whether it will permit waiving the hearing examiner's report is expected within a month.

B&O and C&O officials both have said they hope for a decision on the question of control sometime this year.

Acquiring control of the B&O, C&O has said, would be a step toward ultimate merger of the two properties.

Local Man Sentenced In Larceny Of $20 At Central YMCA

Bernard Clayton Bucy, 19, who has been living at Central YMCA, yesterday was sentenced to 90 days in the Allegany County jail for the larceny of $20 from the "Y" earlier in the day, authorities said.

Trial Magistrate F. Allen Weatherholt, who heard the case, said the sentence would be suspended on condition Bucy make restitution, pay court costs and indicate to the court he will find a responsible family with whom to live.

Bucy was arrested yesterday morning by City Police Detective Captain James E. Van, who had received a complaint from the YMCA that $20 had been stolen.

Police learned that Bucy took the money from a registration desk drawer which was forced open with a pair of scissors. This was about 4 a.m. yesterday.

Race Renamed To Zoning Unit

Ralph Race, Frostburg, yesterday was reappointed to the Allegany County Planning and Zoning Commission for a five-year term.

Race, a Frostburg banker, completed one term. His reappointment by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners was unanimous.

The planning agency requested the county commissioners to meet next Friday at 9:30 a.m. with C. Lee Renaud, director of the agency, and members of the commission to decide on the budget for the next fiscal year.

Renaud in a letter to the board stated that speedy action was needed so the commission can make application to the federal Home and Housing Agency for funds on a matching basis for a number of projects to which the commission may be eligible.

TB Seal Sale Returns Still Behind Last Year

Contributions to the annual Christmas Seal Sale of the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association are still running slightly behind the same period last year.

Mrs. Dorothy McKenty, executive secretary of the unit, said $17,327.52 has been received so far in this year's drive, compared with $18,365.31 for the same time last year.

Mrs. McKenty said residents of Allegany County have contributed $15,089.04 this year, and Garrett County residents have donated $2,238.48.

North End Site Considered For Junior High

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners was informed yesterday by Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, that the Franklin Street County Garage section and immediate area is one site being considered for a new junior high school building.

Webster said that with the cooperation of the county commissioners "we are ready to give serious consideration to the selection of sites for proposed new public school buildings in the Cumberland area."

Such school sites are scarce, Webster pointed out and the discussion of the county commissioners at last Tuesday's meeting on the possible moving of the county garage facility to the Cresaptown area opens up the site for erection of a junior high school to serve the Allegany High School area.

John J. Rowan, president of the county board, said that he would like the board to agree to serious consideration to moving the county garage to the Cresaptown area. He said use of the county property would save the taxpayers a large sum which otherwise would have to be paid out to purchase land.

Moving the garage structure to a site in the Cresaptown area would also provide a more efficient operation of the department in maintenance and snow removal work. Such a relocation would also eliminate the garage from a residential section and improve the general atmosphere of the neighborhood.

D. M. Miller Candidate For Frostburg Council

D. MICHAEL MILLER

FROSTBURG—D. Michael Miller, 94 Washington Street, has filed as a candidate for City Council in the April 3 election.

A veteran of 26 months service in the South Pacific during World War II, Miller is married to the former Florence Wolford. A lifelong resident of Allegany County, he is self employed and has resided here since 1938. He is a past president of the East End Playground Association, a member of the Frostburg Fire Department, Fraternal Order of Eagles, American Legion and Salem United Church of Christ. This is his first venture into politics.

In announcing his candidacy, Miller stated that "it is obvious that Frostburg State Teachers College is destined to grow and that it is the duty of the City of Frostburg to prepare for and assist in this growth. In this respect, if elected, I would devote my entire energies to provide for an adequate system for providing water and sewage disposal, and for improving streets."

Miller added that if he becomes a member of City Council he would also make every effort to force the use of the building housing Cumberland Undergarment Company, Inc., in such a manner as was intended by the local stockholders.

Others who have filed for council include William Preston, William Goebel, James Kenney and Herbert Loar, incumbents. Mayor Joseph James is the only candidate to file for mayor.

Little Theatre Tryouts Held At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — Tryouts for the presentation of "Theatre Showcase, 1962" were held by Little Theatre and Kappa Xi Cast of Alpha Psi Omega, National Dramatic Fraternity, in Compton Auditorium a recent evening.

A committee, with John Goss as chairman, selected scenes from three highly successful plays for their second annual performance, "Auntie Mame," "Three Men on a Horse," and "Smilin' Through."

"Showcase, 1962" will be presented May 5 at 8:15 p.m. in Compton Hall Auditorium, in conjunction with Parents' Day activities. The show will be repeated May 8 as the dramatic facet of the College's "Arts Festival."

"The 1961 Showcase" venture was received so well that Little Theatre and Alpha Psi Omega decided to include this viewing of diverse talent in its yearly calendar of events," stated Miss Dorothy Stone White, faculty advisor and director. "Each of the three scenes will have a student director or selected from the more experienced theatre members."

A coffee hour was also held recently by Little Theatre at which time certain aspects of the Greek theatre were considered. The statement, "The Greeks had a word for it," is frequently repeated, and Little Theatre has designed the program with the hope that it will enhance Dame Judith Anderson's appearance in "Medea," scheduled for March 19 in Compton Hall.

Alpha Psi Omega is planning a reception following the performance of "Medea" and the famous sleep walking scene from "Macbeth."

Income Tax Test Narrowed To Nine Issues

Final Arguments Seen In April

By CARLO J. SALZANO
PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—Issues in a test case challenging West Virginia's new income tax law have been narrowed to nine and final oral arguments are expected to be heard no later than April.

It was learned Friday that attorneys representing State Tax Commissioner C. Howard Hardesty and Ned H. Tanner have filed briefs with Wood County Circuit Judge Donald F. Black. The next step will be for Judge Black to set a date for oral arguments.

Hardesty's brief answering Tanner's suit said there is nothing in West Virginia's Constitution to prevent the Legislature from incorporating in the income tax law provisions of the federal income tax statutes as they stood when the state law was enacted a year ago.

Tanner's suit, filed last June, was based largely on grounds that it was unconstitutional for the Legislature to base a state tax on the federal income tax—which may be changed at any time by Congress or altered by administrative or court rulings.

Hardesty Intervenes

Tanner asked Judge Black to stop his employer, Premier Photo Service of Parkersburg, from withholding state income tax payments from his paycheck. The filing of his suit has been followed by a series of legal maneuvers.

Hardesty was permitted to enter the suit as an intervenor and has taken over the main burden of defending the law. His brief was prepared by Asst. Atty. Gen. Andrew J. Goodwin.

It said the state income tax law merely makes reference to the Internal Revenue Code as it was enacted in 1954 and amended through Jan. 1, 1961.

"There is no provision of the Act which purports to adopt prospectively any changes in any federal statutes, or to incorporate by reference or to bind the tax commissioner, by any regulation or ruling of the Internal Revenue Service, or any decision of the federal courts," Goodwin said.

In view of this, Goodwin said, "there is no substantial question as to the validity of the Act on this score."

Tanner, through attorneys James W. Simonton and Richard F. Pence of Parkersburg, stated that the West Virginia Constitution says that "no law shall be revised or amended, by reference to its title only."

Called "Improper"

"Since it is improper under our Constitution to revise or amend, our own state law, by reference, and because this Act incorporates, by reference, of foreign statutes, some designated and some not, it would be an improper act of our Legislature," Tanner said.

The plaintiff added that the Legislature, by passing the state income tax law, attempted to delegate its legislative authority to administrative agencies of the federal government.

"This action violates the constitutional law of this state, in that, among other matters, it would be impossible, from a reading of said Act, for a person coming under the purview of said Act, to know the administrative decisions, directives, rulings, rules, or regulations promulgated by said federal administrators controlling and administering said Act," Tanner added.

Chinese Artist Will Appear At State College

FROSTBURG — When David Kwok, the distinguished Chinese artist, visits Frostburg State Teacher College campus, February 19 and 20, students and area artists will be introduced to the so-called "hsieh-yi" or Calligraphic style of Chinese painting which is based largely on mastery of the brush.

Like the Chinese painters of all ages, by use of simple and vigorous strokes, which at the same time are prolific and elegant, Mr. Kwok writes his pictures. In this expressionistic art form, the painter greatly suggests and slightly delineates so that, with the minimum number of brush strokes, he achieves the maximum effect.

A great variety of subjects are depicted by the talented brush of David Kwok. He not only specializes in drawing flowers and many small living creatures as did his teacher, the great traditionalist Chi Pai-shih, but he also paints birds, human figures and genre. His work reveals a pervading sense of humor, a feeling of humanity, and joy in existence.

Since David Kwok has been in America, he has given televised demonstrations of his work and by invitation has toured various cities to hold exhibits and demonstrations of his brushwork at colleges and universities.

Mr. Kwok will spend two days on the State campus, where the Art department will act as host. On Monday at 11 a.m., he will meet with the Arts and Crafts class in the Art Studio, 205, Old Main. At 1 p.m., the same day, he will have lunch with the committee of students and faculty in charge of the Artists' Series.

Other interested faculty and students may come to the luncheon in the faculty dining room in Gunter Hall. At 3:10 that afternoon, he will join the class in Art History, Room 102, Faculty Hall.

On Tuesday at noon, Mr. Kwok will meet the Technical Theatre Class in Compton auditorium. From 3 to 4:30 p.m., Kappa Pi, National Art Fraternity, will entertain with a coffee hour in his honor. The last mentioned activity will be held in Gunter Hall, Student Union Building.

Tuesday's program will be climaxed by Mr. Kwok's appearance at the State campus.

WMI Loop And Allegany County Class AA, A And B Races End In Tie

Campers Nip Fort Hill By 57-53 Score

Allegany, Bruce Share WMI Crown; Playoff For "AA"

FINAL WMI STANDINGS

| Team | W | L | Pct. |
|------------|---|---|------|
| Bruce | 7 | 3 | .700 |
| Allegany | 7 | 3 | .700 |
| Valley | 5 | 5 | .500 |
| Fort Hill | 5 | 5 | .500 |
| Mt. Savage | 4 | 6 | .400 |
| Beall | 2 | 8 | .200 |

From goat to hero in 33 seconds. That was the distinction achieved by Jimmy Cox last night as the Allegany guard made a costly mistake, then quickly rectified it with the decisive field goal in the Camper's 57-53 victory over Fort Hill before one of the largest crowds ever assembled at the Sentinel gymnasium.

The thrilling triumph by Allegany enabled the Campers to tie for the WMI League championship and also keeps them in the running for County Class AA honors. A special playoff will be staged Thursday at Campobello between last night's combatants to decide the "AA" winner. Fort Hill had topped the first engagement by a 54-47 score.

With the seconds ticking away and Allegany in front by a point (52-51), Cox lost the ball out of bounds during the Campers' efforts to maintain possession and protect their lead.

Proudfoot Connects

Fort Hill quickly made the most of Cox's miscue, as Del Proudfoot tossed up a jump shot that put Fort Hill out in front with 1:48 to play. Then 33 seconds later, at the 1:15 mark, Cox (who was the Campers' "man of the hour") in their 60-58 victory over Bruce Wednesday night) connected on a one-hand shot off the wrong foot.

Once Cox put the Campers back in the lead, Roger Flanagan, the other half of Allegany's backcourt duo, made certain that Fort Hill wouldn't have a chance to tie it up. The Sentinels had possession three times after Cox's key basket, but on each occasion Flanagan stole or intercepted the ball before Fort Hill could muster a field goal attempt.

Alan Kaplan, who played what most observers considered the finest game of his career, sank a pair of free throws to solidify Allegany's lead (56-53) with 28 seconds to go, and Cox put it out of the Sentinels' grasp with another foul 17 seconds hence.

Fort Hill had entered the final period with a four-point 49-45 edge, but could score only four points in the final frame to a dozen for the Campers.

In fact, the Sentinels held the upper hand throughout much of the contest. After Pat Wilson's jump shot gave them a 12-11 lead in the first period, they were on top until early in the final quarter when successive buckets by Kenny Davis and Kaplan tied the score at 49-49.

Lead By Eleven

During the late stages of the second period, it appeared momentarily as if the Sentinels would make a runaway of the contest. Their board domination and pressing defense were prominent factors in shooting the Red and White eagles into a 34-23 lead. However, Allegany scored the last six points of the quarter, on fielders by Cox, Flanagan and Kaplan, and trailed by only five (34-29) as the half came to an end.

Kaplan, who had not lived up to expectations based on his play as a sophomore two years ago, kept Allegany in contention in the first half. The warthy senior forward hit on seven of eight field attempts in the first two periods.

Kaplan led all the scorers with 20 points, including nine field goals in only 13 attempts. Davis tossed in 15 and Cox 12 for the Campers, whose overall percentage from the floor was .418, with 23 goals in 55 shots.

Fort Hill clicked on 22 of 56 shots for a .392 average. The Sentinels were paced by Wilson, Ronnie Mangas and Proudfoot, with 14, 13 and 12 points respectively.

LAST TIME THAT FORT HILL LED — Delbert Proudfoot's (40) field goal put Fort Hill ahead for the last time at 53-52 with 1:48 to play in last night's battle which Allegany High School won by the score of 57-53 in the Fort Hill court. The win enabled Allegany to tie Bruce for the W.M.I. League championship and also deadlock Fort Hill for county Class AA honors. The Campers and Sentinels will meet in a playoff for the AA crown Thursday, February 22, at Campobello. In the above photo Kenny Davis (41) of Allegany is shown snaring the ball as it passes through the net. Ten players are shown in action.

The Maryland ski championships postponed last month because of lack of snow, are scheduled to get underway in Garrett County today at Marsh Mountain.

The Maryland Ski Club of Oakland, sponsor of the winter event, announced last night it would go ahead with the program today and tomorrow after snow was forecast for the area.

A club spokesman said skiing conditions are not the best but are adequate with between six and seven inches of snow remaining on the slopes of Marsh Mountain from storms earlier in the week.

The slalom will kick off the meet today at 11 a. m., with the downhill race to be run Sunday at 1 p. m.

Art Mahaffey Signs

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Art Mahaffey, 23-year-old right-hander, Friday became the 34th Philadelphia Phillies player to sign a 1962 contract.

Last year Mahaffey won 11 games and lost 19 and had an earned run average of 4.11. He struck out 158 batters in 219 innings.

Marichal Inks Pact

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants Friday had all but nine players under contract following the signing of the hard-throwing righthander, Juan Marichal.

Marichal, 24, compiled a 13-10 record last year despite the fact that he missed the final 20 games of the year with a heel injury. He says the foot is in tip-top shape again.

Roberts Posts Record Average In Daytona Win

Hits 156.999 MPH In Qualifying Race

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Glenn (Fireball) Roberts of Daytona Beach set a blazing record average of 156.999 miles per hour Friday in winning the first of two 100 mile qualifying races for Sunday's Daytona 500 while Joe Weatherly breezed to victory in the other.

Weatherly, the veteran from Norfolk, Va., who formerly held the mark of 152.671, was timed in an average of 145.395 due to a five-car spinout which caused the second race field to run under a caution flag for three laps.

Involved in the near crashup, in which all of the drivers escaped injury but were forced from the race, were Art Brady of Peoria, Ill.; Darel Dieringer of Charlotte, N.C.; Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach; Speedy Thompson of Charlotte, N.C.; and Bobby Johns of Miami.

Weatherly, driving a 1962 Pontiac, finished a half lap ahead of Nelson Stacy of Daytona Beach, who collared Rex White of Spartanburg, S.C., on the last lap to take second place by a car length.

Roberts dusted off a burly Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., with five laps to go—ending a bumper-to-bumper battle in which the lead changed hands between the two of them nine times—to win by a quarter of a lap as he went flat out through the final 10 miles over the two and one half mile asphalt speedway.

Second place went to far-back Jack Smith of Spartanburg, S.C., with Cotton Owens of Spartanburg, S.C., third.

Bud Sullivan Retains Lead

Has Stroke Edge In Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — The pack closed in on Buddy Sullivan in the second round of the $20,000 Tucson Open golf tournament Friday, but the handsome pro retained a one stroke lead over the field with a 36 hole total of 130 — 10 strokes under par for the distance.

Sullivan shot a one under par 69 Friday to go with a brilliant 67 Thursday. Five others were tied for second with 131 totals.

Winds that swept across the course in the afternoon kept many of the golfers from improving their positions. Tied at the 131 mark are Art Wall Jr., Pocomo Manor, Pa.; Bob Duden, Portland, Ore.; Bruce Crapton, Australia, and Dave Ragan, Sun City, Fla., along with Dr. Ed Updegraff of Tucson, the former Western Amateur champion.

In the 132 bracket are Tom Nieport, Locust Valley, N. Y., and Phil Rodgers, La Jolla, Calif. They both had opening round 64s and lost 68s Friday. Bob Harrison, Pacific Palisades, Calif., who had a 64 Thursday also, skied to a big 73 Friday for a 137 total. That tied him with defending champion Dave Hill, Denver, Colo., along with a half dozen others.

Majors To Play 287 Exhibition Baseball Games

Teams Scheduled To Open March 10

BOSTON (UPI) — Major league baseball clubs will take to the diamonds beginning March 10 to play 287 spring training games, including a record 151 inter-league contests.

Among the teams scheduled for March 10 openers are the new National League clubs, the Houston Colts and the New York Mets. The spring training games will continue through April 8.

The spring training schedule also includes 64 games between American League teams, 67 games between National League teams, three in which American League teams will test minor league clubs and two in which National League teams will meet farm clubs.

The Houston Colts will open their spring training games by meeting the Los Angeles Angels at Palm Springs. The New York Mets tangle with the St. Louis Cardinals in the inter-league games, the Pittsburgh Pirates will play two games with the Washington Senators, on April 7 and 8.

American League publicist Joe McKenney said there was one change from the schedule published in the league "red book," the official guide for the league, its personnel and operations.

McKenney said a game scheduled April 7 at Key West, Fla., between the Baltimore Orioles and the Atlanta farm club has been cancelled. He said the Orioles will play Indianapolis at Miami on April 6 instead.

Heart Fund Game Scheduled Tonight At Westernport

Westernport American Legion, unbeaten leaders of the County Basketball League, will meet an array of former college players in an exhibition game tonight at 8:30 at the Bruce High School gym. Proceeds of the contest will go to the 1962 Heart Fund campaign.

A preliminary contest, slated for 7:30 o'clock, will pit SS. Peter and Paul's first half champions against St. Peter's of Westernport in a Catholic Youth Basketball League encounter.

The Blue Angels Drum Corps of Victory Post, American Legion, will perform at halftime.

West Virginia Bear Kill Of 29 In 1961 Is Lowest On Record

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Final tabulations show that the 1961 legal bear kill in West Virginia was the lowest on record, the State Natural Resources Department said Friday.

The 29 bears killed last year represented a 60 per cent decline over the 1960 harvest of 72. Pendleton County had the most killed with nine, followed by Tucker and Monroe with six each.

The department said it was known that at least 36 had been taken out-of-season more than double the non-season kill of 17 the previous year. Such a high non-season kill probably could be blamed for the low legal kill, particularly in Pocahontas County where 19 of the animals were killed out-of-season, the agency said.

Jackets Defeat Ridgeley, 71-65

Moorefield Earns Win At Foul Line

Moorefield High's Yellowjackets used near perfection at the foul line last night to turn back Ridgeley High's Blackhawks, 71-65, in a Potomac Valley Conference battle at Ridgeley.

The triumph, 14th in 19 starts for Coach Jonathan Paugh's Jackets, gave Moorefield a sweep of the series. Ridgeley, bowing for the fourth straight time and 14th time in 20 games, also lost at Moorefield, 67-58.

Moorefield led at the quarters, 19-16, 32-28 and 44-43, taking the lead for keeps on Robert Redman's field goal, 39-38, late in the third period.

Ridgeley led only twice at 25-24 and 38-37 as they dropped their 12th of 18 PVC decisions. The Jackets are now 12-5 in conference play.

Moorefield's edge came at the foul line as both teams tallied 27 field goals. The Jackets converted 17 of 20 chances to Ridgeley's 11-17 for its six-point bulge.

High man for the game was Moorefield's David Vance with 24 points on eight goals and 8-8 free throws. Del Schoonover was tops for Coach Tom O'Connor's Blackhawks with 16 tallies.

Labine Is Signed To Mets' Contract

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Mets took up their sixth former member of the Brooklyn Dodgers Friday when they signed Clem Labine, 35-year-old right-handed relief pitcher, as a free agent.

Labine, released by Pittsburgh at the end of last season, pitched 33 innings for the Pirates; in 1961, winning four games and losing one while turning in a 3.68 earned run average.

Pitcher Is Burned In Freak Accident

Kitt, 19, of Oceanside, N.Y., was trotting into the dugout when he stepped on a cord providing the electricity for the water cooler. His spikes severed the cord and when he placed his hand on the cooler he received the burns.

Kitt was back in the outfield shagging flies after his fingers were treated.

Racing Bills Are Introduced At Annapolis

Cover Harness Ovals And Tax On Betting

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A proposal already rejected by the racing commission and the three major thoroughbred tracks to provide more purse money, particularly to Maryland breeders, was introduced Friday in the House of Delegates.

Two bills to benefit the harness tracks also were added to the pile of pending horse racing legislation.

An increase from 24 to 36 nights for a harness track together with a hike in the tax to 16 per cent out of which the association would receive more was sponsored by 25 delegates. They were all from the Eastern Shore on which a harness track is located at Ocean City.

Backed By Shoremen

Another bill to create a separate three-man harness racing commission was introduced by 40 delegates, most also from the Eastern Shore.

The thoroughbred bill introduced by Del. C. Philip Nichols, D-Prince Georges, originally had been proposed by Maryland breeders and horse owners.

After strong objections from Bowie, Laurel and Pimlico, the racing commission voted down the plan and a new one was agreed to by the tracks.

Senate President George W. Della, D-Balto 6th, introduced the compromise a week ago.

Both bills would increase the tax on betting from 12 to 13 per cent. The tracks and horsemen by private agreement would allow management to keep 36 per cent of the increase and allocate 64 per cent to purses.

Under the original proposal, the mile tracks would have to put 4 per cent of the betting in purses and the half mile tracks 3.66 per cent. All would have to allocate in addition 34 per cent of the betting to purses to be offered in races for Maryland breeds only.

Revise Taxation

The revised harness track method of taxation calls for the tracks to keep 12 1/2 per cent of wagers if the daily average does not exceed $150,000. Over that, they would retain 9 of the total 16 per cent tax.

At present, the harness tracks keep 11 1/2 per cent until the accumulated betting reaches $3 million and then 8 per cent. The new $150,000 daily average figure would be the equivalent of allowing the tracks to retain 12 1/2 per cent up to $3,600,000 based on their present 24 nights.

Betting at Ocean Downs never has reached $3 million.

Sugar Ray Meets Moyer

10-Round Return Bout Set Tonight

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson drags out those faded dancing slippers for the 161st time Saturday night to continue his comeback campaign in a rematch with young Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore.

Robinson, 41, fought his first pro bout Oct. 4, 1940, when Dennis was a 14-month-old toddler.

As might be expected, Sugar Ray no longer dances about but he still can produce a reasonable facsimile of the old Harlem dandy if you let him rest between the flurries.

Dennis and Ray will not have to be introduced at Madison Square Garden. They met professionally last Oct. 21, Robinson winning a unanimous but close verdict.

The 10-round bout will be on network (ABC) television, starting at 10 p.m. EST.

Wardensville Victor, 56-50

Wardensville High avenged an two-point loss last night by turning back Mathias High, 56-50, in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Mathias.

The win was the fourth in 16 games for Wardensville which lost earlier to Mathias, 53-51. The defeat was the 15th in 18 starts for the home quint which scored all 10 of its points in the first period on foul shots.

Jerry Hott scored 15 points to lead Wardensville's attack while Ed Mongold was high for Mathias with 12. Rodney Sherman tallied 10 points for the losers, all on free throws. The lineups:

LaSalle Seeks Grid Coach, James W. Manges Resigns

Held Post Two Years, Teams Won 11 of 20, Three Games Sought

Applications for the post of head football coach at LaSalle High School are now being received following the resignation of James W. Manges, who has held that position for the past two years, it was announced last night by Brother Thomas, athletic director at the North Centre Street school.

Manges was forced to give up the duties of head coach because he has new employment and the hours he works will not permit him to continue his duties at LaSalle.

"LaSalle High School was satisfied with Coach Manges and we would have liked him to remain here," Brother Thomas stated. "He was liked by the members of the two teams he coached and we are sorry to see him leave."

Teams Won 11, Lost 9

Manges, one-time Fort Hill School football, basketball and baseball star, took over the reins at LaSalle in 1960 as successor to Don Harden who coached the Explorers for one season. Manges' 1960 LaSalle team posted a 6-4 record and his 1961 eleven won five and lost five to give him a two-year mark of 11-9.

Applications for the post left vacant by Manges' resignation should be directed to Brother Thomas, athletic director, LaSalle High School.

Three Open Dates

LaSalle also would like to fill three open dates on its 1962 football schedule. Seven of the ten teams that were on the 1961 card are returning but Moorefield, Berlin, Pa., and West Virginia School for the Deaf will be missing.

The open dates are September 21, October 12, and November 2, 9 and 16.

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to my friends and neighbors who were so kind during the illness and death of my beloved husband Carl W. Covick. I am deeply grateful to Rev. In Memoriam

In memory of Austin Godlove, who died 2 years ago today, February 17, 1960.
The loss was sudden, the shock severe. To part with one we loved so dear. Your loving heart had ceased to beat. Your stay on earth was done. Our hearts still ache with loneliness. Our eyes shed many tears. God alone knows how much we miss you. And will know all the years. Your departure so sudden, all were confused.
We know you are waiting, on that great celestial shore.
One by one we will join you. Until your waiting shall be no more. It is hard to understand why things must be.
But there is a reason for it all beyond our power to see.
God gave us strength to bear it. And courage to fight the loss. And what it meant to lose you. No one will ever know.

Hampshire, Morgan Pass School Levies

Hampshire Defeats Hospital Question

Voters of Morgan and Hampshire counties, W. Va., yesterday approved special three-year school levies. Hampshire County also approved a school bond issue but apparently defeated a special hospital levy.

With all 28 Hampshire County precincts reported late last night, the school issues ran well ahead of the 60 per cent approval needed. But the hospital levy apparently got only 59.1 per cent of the vote, a result so close that next Thursday's official canvass could upset it.

The special school levy was approved by a vote of 1,953 to 1,184, or 62.3 per cent. The school bond issue carried by 1,962 to 1,188 or 62.2 per cent. The hospital bond issue drew 1,824 favorable votes and 1,261 against.

Morgan County Approves

In the Morgan County vote, 1,133 voted for the levy and 590 voted against it, for 65.7 per cent approval.

The Hampshire school bond issue is for $750,000 which will be used for construction of a central county high school. It is expected the new building will be located somewhere east of Romney on U.S. Route 50.

The proposed school building will have 20 classrooms and auxiliary rooms, such as a library, laboratories, combined gymnasium and auditorium, cafeteria, kitchen and heating plant. The bond issue also will cover the cost of the land site and architectural fees.

Annual Cost $5.86

The anticipated cost to the taxpayer is $3.86 a year on the average $2,000 assessment on Class 2 property. This amounts to about a cent a day increase in taxes, authorities said.

The special school levy calls for a 75 per cent levy of the rate on the four classes of property for a five-year period beginning in July.

Revenue from this levy will be used to improve facilities in the county's elementary schools, and for instructional, transportation and maintenance areas.

The major portion of the levy will be used for school improvements in the Three Churches-Levies area; Springfield-Green Spring area; Augusta area; Capon-Capon Bridge-Cappon Springs area; and the Kirby-Slanesville-Mill Creek area.

The levy also will finance renovation of the present Romney High School for use as a junior high and a similar renovation at Capon Bridge High.

The total cost for the school levy and bond issue has been estimated at $10.74 a year for the average homeowner, according to Hampshire County officials.

Morgan Plans Construction

In Morgan County, $150,000 of the three-year $180,000 levy will be used to construct a 10-room junior high classroom unit for students of the seventh and eighth grades. This school will relieve the overcrowded conditions at Berkeley Springs.

The remaining $30,000 of the levy will be used for two additional rooms at Paw Paw High School. The new rooms will be used for a band room and a room for the shop program.

Two precincts in Morgan County, Sir John's Run and Magnolia, voted 100 per cent in favor of the levy, while residents of Berkeley Springs voted 76 per cent in favor of the levy. Only five precincts out of 20 precincts in the county voted unfavorably.

The levy calls for 10 cents on each $100 of Class 1 property; 20 cents on Class 2 property, and 40 cents on Class 3 and 4 properties.

Bel Air Work Progressing

Progress in work at the Bel Air Subdivision, one mile from Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, has been announced by Robert H. Downing, vice president of the Allegany Land Company Inc. and project manager of the housing area.

The lagoon sewage disposal plant is now in operation for use by 400 homes, with expansion space available to serve 800 homes, he said.

The exclusively residential area now has streets paved with bituminous concrete. Natural gas lines, street lights, electric and telephone lines have been installed.

Also on order and expected soon are fire hydrants, according to Mr. Downing, who said there are 14 houses now under construction with some homes ready for immediate occupancy.

Local Soldiers Hurt In Crash

Two local servicemen were injured last night in a one-car accident on West Virginia State Route 28 about four and a half miles south of Ridgeley.

Thomas Wilson, 37, of 134 Paca Street, and David Roche, 22, of Baltimore Pike, were treated at Memorial Hospital.

The accident occurred about 8:30 p.m. as the two soldiers were traveling to Cumberland from Washington, D.C. The car careened out of control, took out 12 guard rails, plunged down to the edge of an ice-covered farm pond on the James E. Miltenberger farm and turned over.

They were taken to the hospital in the ambulance of the Ridgeley fire company. Ten volunteers went to the scene with a pumper.

1 Dead, 3 Hurt In Fire At Calif. Hercules Plant

PINOLE, Calif. (AP)—A flash chemical fire killed one workman and burned three at the sprawling Hercules Powder Co. plant 15 miles north of Oakland Friday.

Alton H. Schmitt, 54, of Richmond, Calif., was burned fatally. Injured were Clarence E. Turner, 43, of Hercules; Edwin E. Randall, 37, Rodeo; and Wilford H. Nethercott, 37, Pinole.

The fire broke out when a methanol feed tank in the formaldehyde plant ruptured, G. E. Lowe, plant manager, said in a statement.

"Methanol, used in the manufacture of formaldehyde becomes a highly inflammable vapor at normal pressure," he said.

The cause of the accident—why the tank ruptured or what ignited the vapor, was not known, but Lowe said an investigation was started.

'Mac' Calls F27 Switch 'An Outrage'

Lankford Ready To Abandon Hope

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Maryland Congressman indicated Friday he had given up hope that the Defense Department would change its mind on cancellation of a request for purchase of five F27 prop-jet airplanes.

Defense officials had asked Congress to appropriate $6.5 million for the planes, but announced Thursday they had withdrawn the request. The planes would have been built at the Fairchild Aircraft plant in Hagerstown.

Rep. Richard E. Lankford, D-Md., said there was little chance the Defense Department would reverse its position.

"I'm afraid we've had it," Lankford said after telephone conversations with Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense, and Roswell L. Gilpatric, undersecretary.

Two other Congressmen, Republican Charles McC. Mathias and Democrat Daniel B. Brewster, denounced cancellation of the request Friday.

Lankford said Gilpatric told him he was aware of a campaign promise made in Hagerstown in 1960 by Lyndon B. Johnson, now vice president, that the government would buy F27s. The defense secretary said the President himself is "concerned over this," Lankford reported, adding: "But they're still not going to do it. I gather that it is a question of priorities."

Mathias, whose district includes Hagerstown, met Thursday night at Hagerstown with representatives of the United Auto Workers local union.

The Congressman said he urged local members to act through their state and national UAW offices in making the Defense Department, particularly McNamara, aware of "how extremely disappointed they are, and how vital this is to the people of Hagerstown."

Earlier, Mathias had called the cancellation "an outrage." Lankford and Brewster issued a joint statement in which they described the action as a "cruel joke on the Maryland aircraft industry and particularly on the Hagerstown area."

PPG, Union Continue Talks

(CINCINNATI (AP) — Negotiators worked right past the deadline Friday trying to hammer out a new contract covering an estimated 13,000 Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. workers.

The old contract ran out at noon Friday, but company plants continued operations while talks were pursued here.

Donald Sherbondy, company industrial relations director, said late Friday:

"We're still negotiating and we expect to continue. The plants are still operating, but beyond that I can't say more now."

A spokesman for the United Glass Workers Union was not available immediately, but they have declined all comment on the talks until after a settlement.

State Audience Hears Ensemble In Frederick

Allegany County's Youth Wind Ensemble now has the distinction of having played before a critical state-wide audience and having been favorably received by this same group.

LaVern J. Hahn, who directs the ensemble in addition to his regular duties as supervisor of music education, said the 40 young musicians, most of whom are in the ninth and 10th grades, played last Saturday before 250 members of the State Music Educators Association at the Francis Scott Key Hotel in Frederick.

One of the honored guests was Dr. W. Ardell Haines, principal of Allegany High School, who is president of the state school administrators' association. The ensemble also played for the all-state band in Frederick. Bill Robinson of Allegany, who plays the clarinet, is a member of the only Allegany County representative in the all-state band.

Earlier, the ensemble played an afternoon concert on February 6 at Compton Hall of Frostburg State Teachers College.

Army Plans Maneuvers In Preston

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Guerrilla warfare maneuvers by Army airborne forces will begin in Preston County of northeastern West Virginia early next month, State Adjutant General Gene H. Williams said Friday.

Final arrangements for tactical training maneuvers by the 7th Special Forces Group (Airborne) and the 82nd Airborne Division from Ft. Bragg, N.C., were made the past few days by representatives of Williams' office and participating units.

Base headquarters will be established within 10 days at Camp Dawson near Kingwood, the state's only military post. The maneuvers will cover a two-week cycle of tactical training with about 400 troops taking part.

Williams said the 82nd Airborne will provide "aggressor" forces for the operation. It will be similar to maneuvers staged last summer and scheduled again for July of this year by the 16th Special Forces Group (Airborne) of the West Virginia National Guard.

Similar maneuvers have been conducted by other regular Army forces in Tucker County over the past two months.

Sponsors Found For Library Aid Measure

Reapportionment Study To Begin

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland Library Association announced Friday it had obtained sponsors of legislation to increase state aid by $774,000 for operations of county and Baltimore City libraries.

Frank N. Jones, president of the association, said about 20 delegates headed by Speaker Perry O. Wilkinson, D-Prince Georges, would introduce the House bill and at least four senators would duplicate it Monday night.

The bills would raise the state's share of library costs from the present 4-6 per cent to 30. The state's appropriation this fiscal year is $416,301 while local library aid amounts to $5,620,461.

The new program would distribute state aid based on a formula requiring local governments to contribute according to the relationship between their taxable property and the whole state.

Baltimore City and Baltimore, Calvert, Charles, Garrett, Montgomery, Prince Georges, St. Marys, and Washington counties already are providing more money for libraries than the new formula would require.

Allegany Would Increase

The others would require only small increases to comply, for instance Allegany from its present $44,600 to $55,885 and Frederick from $58,380 to $60,119.

When the legislators return Monday night, a House subcommittee will start sorting out various proposals on legislative reapportionment.

Chairman Ridgely P. Melvin, D-Anne Arundel, of the Judiciary Committee Friday named Alger Y. Barbee, D-Montgomery, Thomas H. Hedrick, D-Balto 2nd, John N. Maguire, D-Balto County, Richard M. Matthews, D-Dorchester, Daniel M. Murray Jr., D-Howard, and Lansdale G. Sasser Jr., D-Prince Georges, to recommend one plan for concentrated attention.

Tax Share Sought

A share of the sales tax for the 23 counties and Baltimore City was sought by Del. Alexander Stark, D-Balto 5th. He put in a bill calling upon the state to distribute 68 per cent of the sales revenues.

On the basis of the next budget, that would amount to slightly more than $6 million.

Sen. Margaret Schweinhaut, D-Montgomery, introduced two bills relating to delinquent children.

She proposed that the Barretts School for Girls at Glen Burnie be abolished and all minor delinquent girls be sent to Montrose at Reisterstown. The Barretts school is for Negro girls and Montrose for whites.

Sen. Schweinhaut also asked that a second detention center for delinquent children be established in Southern Maryland.

A center in Baltimore was authorized in 1956. Children adjudged delinquent may be sent there for study up to 30 days so recommendations for treatment may be made.

Crime Commission Urged

Appointment of a governor's commission on investigation with particular attention devoted to organized crime and racketeering was suggested by Del. Sol J. Friedman, D-Balto. 4th.

In legislative floor action, the Senate tentatively approved raising the salaries of judges of the Court of Appeals. Associates would be paid $25,000 a year and the chief $500 more.

The House passed to the Senate a bill authorizing the Board of Public Works to pay circuit court clerks up to $15,000 a year. The present maximum is $12,000.

Dance Tonight

The Baltimore Pike Volunteer Fire Company auxiliary will hold a round and square dance tonight from 9 to 12 at Minke's Cottage Inn, with music by Wayne Brown's orchestra. Tickets will be available at the door.

She will be sent to Amarillo, Texas, for 13 weeks of training as an administrative specialist. Governor Seeks Deflation Of Campaign Issue

Says Mahoney Ally Urged Bill's Veto

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes sought Friday to deflate a George P. Mahoney campaign issue over Tawes having vetoed a savings and loan regulatory act in 1960. The governor released correspondence showing Sen. Samuel Barrick, candidate for attorney general on the Mahoney ticket, also thought the Tydings bill should be vetoed.

Barrick, senator from Frederick County, voted for the bill but later changed his mind and urged Tawes to veto it. He said it would hurt some local building and loan associations in Frederick and added:

"The bill itself is very poorly written and apparently was done in haste. It has been severely amended and, as passed will do little to keep any unscrupulous financiers out of our state who may wish to form building and loan associations."

First Attempt

The bill, drafted by Del. Joseph D. Tydings, now U. S. attorney for Maryland, was the Legislature's first attempt to regulate the savings and loan industry in Maryland.

Tawes vetoed the bill after a public hearing and named a commission headed by Baltimore attorney Richard W. Case to draw up "more effective" legislation for the 1961 session. The so-called Case bill was passed last year, with Barrick voting for it.

Mahoney has claimed that the one-year lag following the veto of Tydings' bill permitted more unscrupulous operators to invade Maryland and compound the danger to the public. He has said it will be the key issue in his primary campaign against Tawes for Democratic nomination for governor.

Barrick, hearing that Tawes planned to make public his correspondence this week, beat the governor to the punch Friday.

Urged Veto

He admitted to newsmen that he had indeed urged the governor to veto the bill after having voted for it: "I have never made any secret of that fact."

"If Governor Tawes is now going to suggest that he vetoed the bill in response to a letter from a freshman senator, he will be demonstrating complete abdication of executive responsibility," Barrick said.

He said he urged the veto only after several building and loan associations in Frederick, "sound as the rock of Gibraltar," told him the Tydings bill would hurt their operations. Barrick suggested any other senator would have done the same.

"Like everyone else in the Legislature, I was operating in an area I didn't know much about," he said. "But it is the basic responsibility of the administration to determine the full extent of such problems and bring the matter before us."

Gobel Faces Little Choice For Comedy

NEW YORK (NEA)—Bob Newhart and Red Skelton are the only comics doing purely comedy shows on TV, as opposed to the situation comedies of Dick Van Dyke, Joey Bishop, Andy Griffith and the rest.

And this poses a problem for George Gobel.

It also poses a problem for the networks, the sponsors and even the public.

Consider Gobel's problem. Now that "Let It Ride" has closed—an unfortunate event since it was a bright Broadway show and Gobel loved doing it—he can give active thought to his problem.

"I'm giving a lot of thought to going back on TV," he says. "I don't know whether it should be live or on film. I don't know if it should be a variety show or a situation comedy."

"I want to know what the trend is going to be and hop on the bandwagon. I spent the last few years I was on TV bucking the trend. I don't want to do that again."

"Do you think live is coming back? I sure hope so. In situation comedies, all the formats are alike. All they offer me are the same thing—a man with a wife, maybe a kid or two and either a mother-in-law or a dog."

If you think of the situation comedies which are memorable, they are memorable to the degree that they departed from that basic premise.

The network chiefs feel the situation comedy is just coming into its own. Next season, they insist, we'll see more half-hour shows. And, they continue, the half-hour length lends itself better to situation comedies. So, chances are, there will be more situation comedies.

So Gobel's problem—and that of other comedians—is a real one. If they are to go back on TV, they seem to be faced with situation comedy or nothing.

GEORGE GOBEL
Faces Dilemma

Van Dyke Show Has Realism

One of the secrets of the success of The Dick Van Dyke Show, over and above the very funny scripts turned out by Carl Reiner, is the naturalness of the situations.

Talking to Mary Tyler Moore, who plays Dick's wife, you realize that this is deliberate naturalness. For example, Miss Moore has received many letters complimenting her on the fact that her wardrobe is realistic.

"I wear slacks a good deal," says the beautiful young actress. "I want to appear normal. I wear slacks when I'm working around the house and so do most young housewives. It's ridiculous for a housewife to get dolled up in high heels to vacuum the rug."

There is also the question of food. Miss Moore says that they make a point of using the real thing on the set. If the script calls for her to scramble eggs, she scrambles eggs.

Mary Tyler Moore—she uses a family name as a middle name "because I felt Mary Moore just sounded too plain"—started out as a dancer. But she realized that there was no future in dancing. So she tried acting.

She never told the Van Dyke staff that she could sing and dance. When Carl Reiner discovered that she was a triple-threat, he wrote a script in which she met Dick while dancing in a USO show.

Now that she has something of a name, she's thinking of resuming her previous ambition—dancing the lead in a musical comedy on Broadway.

Sun Valley Show—Labor Of Love

"It was a labor of love and frozen fingers and toes."

Thus, the now thawed-out and lovely star soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, Roberta Peters summed up the January week of production high up in Idaho's Sawtooth Mountain range for ABC-TV's "Winter Carnival at Sun Valley"—the special to be seen Friday, February 23.

The "invasion" of Sun Valley, one of America's and the world's great ski resorts, was accomplished by a pincer movement from the east and west coasts during a week of record low temperatures throughout most of the country.

From New York, led by producer Marlo Lewis, came a troupe of 35—stars Roberta Peters, Louis

Armstrong and his band, comedian Jack Carter, ice-skating champion Dick Button, Olympic ski medalist Penny Pitou, the famed ice-skating adagio team of Harrison and Kossi, director Grey Lockwood and various production and technical crew members.

From Los Angeles came the show's special guest stars Gordon and Sheila MacRae and 25 more cameramen, soundmen, technicians—and their equipment.

From their various snow-laden training grounds came 14 of the world's top professional skiers to compete in a giant slalom for a purse of 3,500 silver dollars.

Considering the number of persons involved and the logistics of this "operation deep-freeze" as it came to be known, it is obvious that it was some time in the planning.

The idea was hatched by producer Marlo Lewis who contended: "I was, and am, fed up with TV shows running off to Paris, Berlin, Moscow, etc. Let's show America. There's too much that hasn't, and should, be shown. I'm bored with running around the world. I want to show America to Americans."

But this was only part one of his bill of particulars. "Television," he said, "must get out of its antiquated sets and take an excursion to a new kind of show business. It's all well and good for the show to be presented from a nightclub in New York or a hotel in Las Vegas. But what do you see? When we decided to go to Sun Valley we knew we were presenting something different."

Video Actresses Among 'Best-Tressed'

Still another status symbol reflects the power of television: a woman's hairdo. For the fifth consecutive year, the Ten Best-Coiffured Women have been chosen by 20,000 hairstylists, the Helen Curtis Guild of Professional Beauticians.

The list boasts not one, not two, but four television personalities.

Among the most honored heads are those of Dinah Shore, Cara Williams, Eva Gabor, and Nancy Hanchman. They're in best-tressed company with Mrs. John F. Kennedy, Princess Margaret, socialite Mrs. William McCormick Blair Jr., fashion designer Anne Klein, Cyd Charisse and Sophia Loren.
